MOLOTOV POLICY SPEECH SCHEDULED

KNUCKLING TO LEWIS DENIED BY SECRETARY

Krug Says U. S. Did Not Surrender, Although Coal Strike Is Off.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29—Despite President Truman's flat assertion that there be no coal strike, Secretary of Interior J. A. Krug made it clear today that the government has not surrendered to John L. Lewis on his demand for a new coal contract.

By implication, Lewis has threatened a walkout by his 400,000 soft coal miners on Nov. 1—four days before the elections.

Hours after Mr. Truman signalled that the strike threat was banished, a spokesman for Krug told a reporter late last night at Tahoe City, Calif., that Krug's action in arranging a conference between Lewis and coal mines administrator N. H. Collisson was "a compliance only with Mr. Lewis' request for a meeting."

Krug, who is on a western inspection tour, had telegraphed Lewis on Sunday arranging the meeting for Friday.

"Does that telegram mean the government will reopen the coal contract?" a reporter asked.

"It does not say that," the spokesman replied.

Denies Surrender

Asked whether Lewis was correct in interpreting the telegram as compliance with the union leader's Oct. 21 letter demanding reopening of the contract, the Krug spokesman answered:

"The secretary's communication is a compliance only with Mr. Lewis' request for a meeting."

Previously, Mr. Truman's no-strike announcement had been taken as indicating that the government might be ready to talk new contract terms—as demanded by Lewis. In addition, there had been some speculation that the administration might already have worked out some formula satisfactory to Lewis.

That was the broad interpretation, at least, placed upon the union leader's sudden agreement yesterday to negotiate with the government under the terms of the old pact which went into effect last May 29 after Krug seized the nation's strike-paralyzed soft coal mines.

Changes Stand

Until yesterday, Lewis had insisted bluntly that unless the government agreed to negotiate a new contract—notably with reference to wages and hours—the current pact would be "void" on Nov. 1.

Since Lewis' miners do not work without a contract, this presumably would have meant an immediate walkout by the miners.

Mr. Truman's unequivocal assurance that there will be no strike was given at a White House news conference when a reporter asked if there was any news on coal.

No, Mr. Truman said, there was

Marion Teachers' Pay Scale, One of Ohio's Lowest, Makes 2-Mill Extra Levy Necessary

This is one of a series of four articles on the critical situation existing in Marion's public schools because of the extremely low salaries paid teachers and emphasizing the imperative need of the two-mill special tax levy which is to be submitted to voters in the election Tuesday, Nov. 5.

• • •

Marion schools have the lowest salary schedule for teachers of all cities in Ohio in the 30,000 to 100,000 population bracket, and the next to the lowest expenditure per pupil for all school expenses within that group.

These facts have been revealed by the Marion Civic Planning association and school authorities as they ask approval of an additional two-mill school tax levy in the November election.

Primary purpose of the levy, which would run for four years, and which would yield an estimated $82,000 a year, is to increase teachers' salaries. The tax levy ballot will be one of three handed Marion voters when they go to the polls Nov. 5. Other ballots include the regular party column ballot and the judicial ballot.

The bond issue ballot reads as follows: "An additional tax for the benefit of the Marion City School District for the purpose of providing adequate funds for the current expenses of said school district for the years of 1946, 1947, 1948 and 1949 at a rate not to exceed two mills for each dollar of valuation, which amounts to 20 cents for each one hundred dollars of valuation for and during the years of 1946, 1947, 1948 and 1949."

Persons will register their vote on the issue by placing an "X" in the space provided at the left of "For the tax levy" or "Against the tax levy."

Marion's Low Standing.

Recent studies have shown that among the 16 Ohio cities in Marion's population group, Marion ranks next to the last in the amount of money spent per pupil for schools. Since more than three-fourths of current school costs go for instruction purposes, this means that salaries of Marion teachers are among the lowest in cities of corresponding populations.

About 80 per cent of the money raised from the levy would go for increases in salaries of school personnel, the superintendent excluded. The balance would go to offset increased cost of textbooks, fuel, supplies, maintenance and other such expenditures.

Despite many efforts to increase millage for school purposes and the approval given by electors of Marion for school projects, Marion schools still are spending 20 per cent less for their school children now than the average city in Ohio.

Below National Standard.

A recent report on teachers' salaries in the United States, a study in which Marion has participated since 1935, indicates that, with one exception, average salaries paid in Marion have fallen below the national average both for cities of 2,500 to 29,999 in population and for cities of 30,000 to 99,999 in population.

Comparative average costs of current and other expense items of Ohio school districts as prepared by the bureau of educational research at Ohio State university, indicate Marion's cost per pupil is $28.90 under the state average. The total cost per pupil in Marion during the school year of 1944 and 1945 was $113.32, compared to the state average cost of $142.22. During the last school year Marion's school dollar was

LAUSCHE ASKED FOR APOLOGY

Jenkins Demands Retraction of Criticism of Attorney General's Office.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 29—Atty. Gen. Hugh S. Jenkins made formal demand on Gov. Lausche today to retract criticism of the attorney general's department for alleged lack of alertness in the handling of prosecutions in the Trumbull county slot machine cases.

In his communication, Jenkins submitted copies of memoranda and letters from his files detailing his staff's efforts to have liquor inspectors present proper evidence in prosecutions of complaints against permit holders.

One inter-office communication, dated July 23, from Charles G. Schnur, assistant attorney general, to Frank W. Kleinfelder, then chief of the liquor enforcement division, called specific attention to preparation of complaints against the Trumbull county permit holders for exhibiting slot machines and asked for evidence showing ownership of the machines.

The evidence sought was to be obtained from the federal internal revenue department.

Jenkins said no attempt had been made to obtain this vital evidence before the complaints were set for hearing before the liquor control board.

"Permit me further to point out," Jenkins said, "that it is not the province of this office as counsel for such department to act both as investigator and prosecutor."

He declared it was the duty of the liquor department's 160 inspectors to furnish evidence to support complaints against permit holders.

Jenkins also submitted memoranda showing that his department in July 1945 had offered to help train liquor inspectors in gathering evidence, but that such suggestion was ignored until 14 months later. The result then was commended by Acting Enforcement Chief H. T. Chapman in a letter to Jenkins on Sept. 25 this year.

"It appears to me that from all the foregoing, which is a matter of record and not conjecture, that this office has done more than would ordinarily be expected under the circumstances, and that in all fairness to this situation your statement should be publicly retracted," Jenkins said.

Deadline for Absentee Voters To Be Thursday

The Marion county board of elections office will remain open Thursday until 6:30 p. m., the deadline for absentee voters, the election board office reported today.

Absentee ballots now total 241, election officials said, with railroad employes comprising the majority. Twelve servicemen also have voted by absentee ballot.

Persons who expect to be more than 50 miles from their voting precinct on election day are eligible to vote by absentee ballot.

Five-Man Civilian Board To Guide U. S. Atomic Policies

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29—A five-man board of civilians made ready today to take over from the army the momentous task of guiding this country into the atomic age.

The five—a federal power expert, a physicist, an editor, a retired rear admiral and an investment banker—thus shouldered "responsibilities as great as any men have ever assumed in peacetime."

Those were the words President Truman used in announcing the make up of the all-powerful new atomic energy commission, headed by David E. Lilienthal as chairman.

"The consequences of our work, for good or evil, are awesome," Lilienthal said, yielding up his chairmanship of the Tennessee Valley Authority to accept the assignment.

Commission Named

With Lilienthal, Mr. Truman selected for the commission set up three months ago by congress:

Dr. Robert F. Bacher, 41-year-old Cornell university physicist who helped develop the atomic bomb. He is scientific consultant to Bernard M. Baruch, American representative to the United Nations atomic energy commission.

William W. Waymack, 58, editor of the Des Moines Register and winner of the Pulitzer award in 1937 for distinguished editorial writing. He also is a director of both the Chicago Federal Reserve bank and the Carnegie Endowment for international peace.

Rear Adm. Lewis L. Strauss, retired, 50, former member of the army-navy munitions board, one-time secretary to Herbert Hoover and now a partner in the New York banking firm of Kuhn, Loeb and Co. He has played an active role in cancer research.

Summer T. Pike, 55, an investment banker who until last March was a member of the securities exchange commission. Pike, whose home is in Lubec, Me., quit the SEC with the explanation, "I'm getting stale."

As Lilienthal's successor as head of the giant TVA, Mr. Truman named Gordon R. Clapp, general manager of the government utility since 1939. Clapp received the appointment, which is effective Nov. 1, on his 41st birthday.

Makes Special Announcement

The President announced his selections at a special news conference late yesterday.

He signed legislation creating the commission Aug. 1, then spent 12 weeks searching for men whose "abilities and experience" he believes "will command the confidence of the country."

Their appointments, as well as that of Clapp, are subject to senate confirmation when congress reconvenes in January.

Of the tremendous unprecedented task facing the commission, which takes over from the army full supervision of atomic energy and production of atomic bombs, Mr. Truman said in a letter to Lilienthal:

"The era in which we live is momentous and the problems with which you as chairman, and your colleagues as members of the commission, will have to deal are of supreme importance.

"The character and the solution of these problems will determine the course of civilization."

Must Study Field

The President stressed that the commission will have to take time to study the army's multi-billion-dollar atomic program in detail before it can carry out "its very great responsibilities."

He said the transition "may well extend over a period of months," and that during that time the war department will continue to operate the atomic energy program "so that there will be no interruption in work."

Senate confirmation of the appointments generally is expected, although Senator McKellar (D-Tenn) already has served notice that he will do all he can to block approval of the Lilienthal nomination.

Union To Be Based Upon 'Cooperation' Formed by Oilman

By The Associated Press

PONCA CITY, Okla., Oct. 29—George Biggs grew so tired of labor and management quarreling, he said today, that he quit a top job with a $100,000,000 oil firm to start a union based on salesmanship and cooperation.

"There's nothing this country needs as badly as it needs cooperation," said Biggs, former sales promotion manager for the Continental Oil Company.

In a statement outlining the aims of his new union, which Biggs said he is starting with his own funds, he declared:

"It's time to stop fighting and start cooperating. I'm going to do something about it. I think I'm in a very good position to start such a movement. I've been a salesman for 30 years and this is a job for salesmen.

"I propose to organize a union of all employed people. As soon as this new union can gain a majority in any single plant I plan to claim bargaining rights under existing laws," Biggs explained.

"When we get those bargaining rights we shall then go to the employer and sell him a program of cooperation in which he can make money and we can draw higher wages. We shall not present him with a set of demands but with a profit-making program. We shall not make threats. We shall not make promises."

He said that any person working for a wage, salary or commission could join and declared he alone was financing the early steps in organization of the union. He added that as the organization grows, extension activities will be financed by dues paid by the members.

PHILIPPINE OFFICERS HIT SLURS ON GI'S

By The Associated Press

MANILA, Oct. 29—Three commanding generals of army forces in the Philippines today issued a joint statement in which they "resented...unwarranted" press criticism of GI behavior. At the same time, the army confirmed a report of a beating administered an aged Filipino by a U. S. major.

The message was distributed to every soldier in the Philippines. Attached was a reprint of an article by Richard Johnston, New York Times' correspondent, outlining Filipino complaints that GI conduct often is rowdy, drunken, arrogant and criminal.

"Your present conduct most certainly is still very largely influenced by your home training," the statement read. "...We doubly resent the attacks on you because in effect it attacks every home in our nation. ...Only a relatively small group of us do misbehave."

The Manila press simultaneously carried new incidents of alleged misbehavior.

The army confirmed but withheld details of this report in the Manila Chronicle: an American marine, angered because of a flash of lightning, hauled an elderly Filipino rickshaw driver from a truck, flattened and beat him into unconsciousness and publicly reviled him. The Filipino is employed by the war crimes commission.

RUBBER WORKERS TO SEEK 26-CENT RAISE

By The Associated Press

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 29—The policy committee of the United Rubber, Cork, and Plastic Workers of America (CIO) has decided to seek a 26-cent hourly wage increase for its 103,000 members, international President L. S. Buckmaster announced here today.

The first "post-OPA control" wage demand on a large scale could set the pattern for other CIO unions, Buckmaster said.

The new demand, based on a 40-hour work week, would add $104,000,000 to rubber industry payrolls, Buckmaster said.

The union policy committee of 152 delegates from 111 URW locals in the United States and Canada reached a decision on a specific demand last night. The decision was made after committee members had discussed the cost of living statistics and figures on company earnings presented by A. L. Lewis of Akron, O., the union research director.

The executive board is working out details of the demand for presentation to the big four in the rubber industry—U. S. Rubber Co., Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. B. F. Goodrich Co., and Firestone Tire and Rubber Co.

Buckmaster said negotiations on a big four basis would be opened as soon as possible, and that Nov. 1 had been set for backstop for retroactive increases should negotiations be prolonged.

OPA SLIPS ICE FROM LIST OF PRICE CURBED ITEMS

Declares Supply Now Sufficient To Meet All Demand.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29—OPA skidded ice out from under price control today.

Declaring that the supply is ample to meet all demands, the agency said its action would apply to both natural and manufactured ice, as well as icing services.

The industry does an estimated $260,000,000 worth of business a year.

Meanwhile, OPA issued a 127-page directory listing 3,500 commodity groups decontrolled up to Oct. 15. The price of the directory for anyone interested was put at $3 a copy by the government printing office, with a promise that supplements would be issued.

Even with meat and most other foods and beverages taken out from under ceilings in the last few weeks, Meyer Sherman, OPA economist reported today that 44 cents of the average family's cost of living dollar still is under price control. He said this compares with a peak of about 50 cents of the C.O.L. dollar on June 30, 1945.

Talk Expected To Blast U. S. Troops in China

Deployment of British Forces Also Considered Likely Subject at UN.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 29—A Russian blast at the presence of United States troops in China and British forces in Greece, the Middle East and Indonesia pointed the way today for a major policy address by Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav Molotov before the United Nations assembly.

Diplomatic authorities speculated that Molotov, speaking for the first time in the assembly's general debate, now drawing to a climax, probably would hammer on many, if not all, of the main points of Soviet criticism of the Western powers initially set forth in a session last night by Kuzma Kiselev, foreign minister of White Russia, one of the constituent republics of the U.S.S.R.

To Take Rostrum

Molotov was slated to take the rostrum at the second of the day's two sessions. Altogether representatives of 10 countries were due to be heard, including Syria, Ethiopia, Bolivia, the Philippines and the Netherlands at the first session and Canada, Greece, Australia and Colombia at the second.

With Molotov and other ranking members of the Soviet delegation in the assembly auditorium at Flushing last night, Kiselev made these charges against the United States and Britain:

1. By maintaining troops in China, and in Greece, the Middle East and Indonesia they are breaking the United Nations charter.

2. In China the United States is not following a policy calculated to maintain the peace of the Far East.

3. Britain is doing everything possible to maintain troops in the Middle East.

4. The presence of such troops in various non-enemy countries will only lead to unrest among the peoples.

Brings New Element

His assertions introduced a new element of controversy into the general debate which entered its fifth day with other disputes raging also over small nations demands for doing away with the great power veto in the security council and over continuation of the Franco government in Spain.

Both the White Russian spokesman and Foreign Minister Wincenty Rzymowski of Poland assailed Spain under Franco as a hotbed of postwar Nazi scheming for revenge against the Allies, and both also defended the veto

German Reaction To Stalin Speech Called "Painful"

By The Associated Press

BERLIN, Oct. 29 — The Russian-licensed newspaper Nacht Expressen said today Prime Minister Stalin's statement that Russia considered the western frontiers of Poland permanent would "ring painfully in German ears."

The newspaper, commenting on Stalin's responses to 31 questions posed by Hugh Baillie, president of the United Press Associations, added, however, that "it is our view that the existing agreements leave no other possible answer for Russia."

Germans generally, interviewed on Stalin's statements, expressed fear that approval of the Oder-Neisse line as Poland's western boundary would have further adverse effects on German economy by depriving her of land which once was her richest agricultural area.

The average German, asked to comment on Stalin's view that Germany should be thoroughly demogratized and be afforded political and economic unity, replied, in effect: "That's fine, but when do we get it?"

The Nacht Expressen described Stalin's belief that Germany should be permitted to raise the level of industry agreed on by the Big Four as "a silver lining in the sky."

"The policy of the Soviet Union is aimed at giving Germany the greatest possible economic and political independence under present conditions," the newspaper said. STALIN SAYS RUSSIA HAS NO A-BOMBS

Declares Soviet Divisions in Europe Number 60; Will Be Cut to 40.

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, Oct. 29—Prime Minister Stalin declared in a statement made public today that the Soviet Union has no atomic bomb or anything like it, and urged "rigid international control" of atomic energy.

The Soviet leader, replying to 31 questions submitted to him by Hugh Baillie, president of the United Press, said Russia's troop strength in the occupied countries of eastern Europe totaled 60 divisions, and would be reduced within two months to 40.

Stalin expressed opinions on a broad range of subjects, covering almost every paramount international issue. His replies were broadcast this morning over the Moscow radio.

Asked what should be done if the threat of a new war should arise, the Russian leader said its "instigators" should be curbed, and he accused Winston Churchill, Britain's war-time prime minister, of being among such instigators. He said, however, that he did not agree with U. S. Secretary of State Byrnes that tension was increasing between the United States and Russia. This statement was regarded here as a solid contribution to better relations between the two powers.

5-Point Program

In responses to other questions, as broadcast by the Moscow radio, Stalin declared:

1. The government of the U. S. S. R. is "indifferent" to the presence of American warships in the Mediterranean.

2. He does not feel the veto power has been used to excess either in the UN security council or in the foreign ministers' council.

3. Russia regards the western borders of Poland as permanent.

4. Russia feels that "Yugoslavia has grounds to be dissatisfied" with the peace treaty drafted for Italy at the Paris conference.

5. The U.S.S.R. regards "as unnecessary" the presence of British troops in Greece.

6. He believes that "not only the economic, but also the political, unity of Germany is to be desired."

Second Interview

The responses to Mr. Baille's questions constituted the second such interview Stalin had granted in a period of slightly more than a month. On Sept. 24, in answer to questions submitted by Alexander Werth of the Sunday Times of London, he said he could see no danger of a new war.

In today's answers, he said he felt "the instigators of a new war, in the first place Churchill and others of like mind in Britain and the U.S.A.", constituted "the worst threat to world peace" now.

"If such a threat should arise," Baille asked, "what would be the best steps to be taken by the nations of the world to avoid a new war?"

"The instigators of a new war," said Stalin, "are to be exposed and curbed."

His declaration that Russian troops in eastern Europe numbered 60 divisions constituted an answer to Churchill's suggestion.

Traffic Violations Decline As Safety Campaign Closes

Pedestrians and motorists were given their final warnings, for the time being, last Saturday afternoon when groups from the Exchange club and St. Mary High school assisted members of the Marion county Safety Council in their weekly traffic contact period.

Last Saturday marked the seventh and final week of the campaign. The drive was planned last spring by the then newly-organized safety council.

Chief of Police William E. Marks said today that the campaign has definitely made Marionites more safety conscious. Jay-walking in the downtown district has shown a marked decrease, he said, and drivers are also more careful.

Webster Reports

H. E. Webster of the Marion Chamber of Commerce and executive secretary of the Safety Council, said during the seven Saturday afternoon contact periods 4,866 pedestrians receiving warning cards. Motorists observed violating safe driving practice were mailed 65 cards.

That the campaign made an impression on pedestrians and motorists here is reflected, Mr. Webster said, by the decreasing number of warnings issued each week. Speeding and other reckless driving are much less prevalent in the downtown district than before, he said. The most frequent violation during the last two weeks, he said, has been motorists failing to wait for pedestrians while turning corners.

Few flagrant cases of jay-walking have been noted recently, he said. A number of violations last week occurred because of persons crossing streets at the intersection of alleys. Crossings should only be made at the intersection of streets, according to city ordinance.

The spirit of the campaign has been that of the friendly reminder, Mr. Webster said. All boys and girls working with the group have been instructed to smile when giving a ticket and to make no remark. The public has received the campaign in good grace, Marks said.

Consider Revival

The campaign may be revived during the Christmas holiday, officials said, when pedestrian and vehicular traffic reaches a peak. Demonstrations may also be arranged at that time.

Organizations which have aided the Safety Council in the drive have been Kiwanis, Rotary, Lions, Ya Men, Altrusa and Exchange. Also participating have been the Boy and Girl Scouts and safety patrols from Central Junior High school, Vernon Heights Junior High school, St. Mary High school, Mark Street school, Forest Lawn school and Silver Street school.

PEACEFUL MOMENT AT UN SESSION. Warm weather and the drone of routine business getting the United Nations general assembly under way may be what sent Dr. Francisco Castillo Najera, left, chairman of the Mexican delegation, and Sen. Tom Connally, right, chairman of the U. S. delegation, into this state of relaxation. Dr. Najera later livened the session at Flushing, L. I., when he launched a vigorous attack on the Big Five veto power in the security council. (International News Soundphoto)

According to Mr. Simpson it is estimated approximately 450 sections of the general code will be recommended to the next session of the legislature for repeal by the code revision commission as obsolete.

He said the commission also will recommend to the legislature a plan for the general code and the carrying on of further research to correct ambiguity, inconsistence and other discrepancies now existing in the general code.

$500 in Prizes Ready for Kids

More than $500 worth of prizes have been assembled by police for distribution among Marion youngsters participating in the Halloween parade Thursday night sponsored by Marion County Lodge No. 24, Fraternal Order of Police.

Top prizes are boys' and girls' bicycles, which will go to the boy and girl with the most outstanding costume. Other prizes are being offered that will appeal to Marion's younger generation from first grade through senior year in high school.

Virgil H. Campbell, head of the police Halloween committee, praised the generosity of merchants and other public-spirited citizens who donated prizes and cash.

Any Marion school child in Marion is eligible to participate in the parade and costume contest.

The parade will start at West Center and Prospect streets at 7:30 p. m., and proceeds to the Marion county fairgrounds by way of West Center, North Main and East Fairground streets.

Judging will be held in front of the grandstand at the fairgrounds. The public is invited and admission to the ground and grandstand is free.

Leading the parade will be a motorcycle escort composed of city police and state highway patrolmen. The Buckeye Aerie No. 337 of Eagles band will follow, and then children from the first through eighth grades. Following them will the Harding High school band and high school students.

The parade will form on West Center street with the head at Prospect street at 7 p. m. Placards will be provided to indicate where students of each grade should assemble.

Also on the program at the fairgrounds, in addition to the judging, will be a welcome address by Chief of Police William E. Marks and a program by the Chuck Wagon Pals.

OHIO HOSPITALS IN SPOTLIGHT

Lausche, Herbert Debate Programs for State's Mental Institutions.

By The Associated Press

The Democratic administration's program for the mentally ill and its handling of state highway dominated gubernatorial campaign oratory last night while labor and the New Deal highlighted speeches in the senatorial race as candidates pressed into the stretch before next Tuesday's election.

Gov. Lausche defended his administration's handling of mental patients in state institutions in a round of speeches at Akron last night. Of Thomas J. Herbert, his Republican opponent, he said:

"Plainly if he were elected he would send the state back to the days of dungeons and of leadpipe, rubber-hose jailers."

Claims Greatest Progress

Asserting advances in caring for the mentally ill were made over great obstruction, Lausche claimed "the greatest progress in Ohio in the last two decades was that of the last two years."

The governor said Herbert erred in criticizing the administration's increase in the number of employes at the mental hospital division of the welfare department.

"The increase was reasonable and necessary," Lausche continued.

John W. Bricker, the Republican choice for the senate seat of James W. Huffman, Democrat, told a Norwood, O., rally the Truman administration sought to "pit labor and business against each other for its own political advantage."

Bricker said the New Deal's "close alliance with certain radical labor leaders within the political action committee has led to unjust administration of the labor laws and a total disregard of workable wage-price policies in industry."

"Stern Strike Policy"

The former governor pledged his party to establishment of a "fair but stern policy of dealing with unreasonable, irresponsible and alien-inspired strikes."

Huffman described Bricker as a "late reactionary" who masquerades as an "early New Dealer."

Speaking at a New Philadelphia Democratic rally, Huffman recalled that Bricker termed himself a "middle of the roader" during a Cleveland appearance.

The incumbent said that while attacking the New Deal, Bricker simultaneously seeks the liberal vote by claiming "to have originated much New Deal legislation when he was attorney general of the state.

"Early New Dealer"

"If this were true, as he recently declared in Cleveland, then we would have to label him an early New Dealer and a late reactionary."

Herbert in a radio speech expressed concern "at the failure of the present administration to properly maintain highways."

"I favor the modernizing of our arterial routes between large centers of population," the Republican gubernatorial candidate continued.

"The agricultural importance of Ohio and the local use in its cities of farm products indicates a need for a sound program of local, farm to market, low cost road improvements."

The current rate of glycerol consumption in the United States is estimated to be about 25 per cent above that in 1941, or 220,000,000 pounds for 1946 compared to 175,000,000 pounds in 1941.

The Halby youth received $10 in savings stamps and his class received a new encyclopedia. In his letter he argued that the veto should be eliminated. His winning letter is quoted in the Oct. 31 issue of Young America. Two students in California schools won second and third places in the contest.

Bandman Artie Shaw Weds "Amber" Author

By The Associated Press

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 29—Artie Shaw, the clarinet man who aspires to be a movie producer, was honeymooning today with Kathleen Winsor, who hit the jackpot in her first literary try with "Forever Amber."

Their surprise marriage yesterday in Juarez, Mexico, across the border from El Paso, Tex., caught Hollywood napping. Nobody even seemed to have known they were romancing. The film colony was unaware that Kathleen had obtained a divorce from Bob Herwig, former University of California football star who won a hero's citation as a Marine captain at Okinawa.

It was the fifth marriage for Artie, who at one time was regarded as the nation's top hot clarinet player.

Mackenzie Says Britain On Spot Over Palestine

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

If you were the British governmen, what response would you make to the demand that 100,000 European Jewish refugees be admitted to Palestine forthwith?

That's not an easy question to answer, is it—looking at it from the standpoint of say Prime Minister Attlee? I dare say John Bull would give a handsome reward to the one who could supply him with what he regarded as a satisfactory solution.

DewittMackenzie

John is in an unhappy position. He's going to be damned if he does, and damned if he doesn't. On the one hand he has President Truman urging that Britain carry out the recommendations of the Anglo-American commission on Palestine that at least 100,000 Jews be allowed to enter the Holy Land immediately. On the other are King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia, and other Arab leaders, who are battling Jewish immigration. There even have been threats from influential Arabian quarters that if Britain throws Palestine open to immigration, the Arab population of the Middle East will turn to Russia for support—this being a threat to England's influence in that strategic area.

One of the first points we encounter in examining this troublesome problem is what relation, if any, there is between the immigration of a hundred thousand Jews and the establishment of a Jewish state in Palestine. We must admit immediately that the creation of a Jewish state will tax the skill of the world's sages. However, broadly speaking it would seem that the matter of the Jewish state and this limited immigration aren't strongly related.

No Effect Seen

Some experienced observers feel that the addition of this number of Jews to the population wouldn't have any material effect on the bigger issue. If we were talking about half a million immigrants, it would be different.

Apart from the political aspect, 100,000 refugees wouldn't place a burden on the present Jewish-Arab population of the Holy Land—not with the help which they would receive from England and America. Then too we must remember that these distressed folk are homeless and want to be with their own people—a very natural desire. I know how they feel about that, because I talked with many of them in Germany early this year. They all wanted to go to Palestine because it meant "home" to them. Consideration must be given to that plea.

Now it would be worse than foolish to think that the Arabs don't mean business in their insistence that they have their place in the Palestine sun. They are a brave people and if it should come to a show-down they are quite capable of fighting for that place. And just so would the Jews.

"No Resort To Arms"

However, having spent considerable time in the Middle East during the past thirty years, one takes the liberty of doubting whether the Arabs would resort to arms, or yet call on Moscow for support, over the matter of further Jewish immigration which was guaranteed to be moderate pending adjustment of the whole situation. There always is danger of racial rioting in that part of the world, but organized war is another thing.

Naturally it is essential that Britain retain the good-will of the widespread Arab populations. However, John Bull equally needs the friendship of the great and powerful bodies of Jewish citizens in England, America and other countries.

So, looking at the thing from all sides, one wonders that John doesn't feel impelled to make the gamble of opening the doors to these 100,000 displaced persons. The odds are that he could make this handsome gesture to a needy people without creating fresh hazards for himself. There are times when we must take chances, and this would seem to be one of them.

15-YEAR-OLD PLEADS INNOCENT OF SLAYING

By The Associated Press

MINEOLA, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Fifteen-year-old Henry J. Haubold Jr., calmly and in a firm voice pleaded innocent yesterday to the state's charge that he fatally stabbed 11-year-old George Wanzer after, an attorney quoted him as explaining, he "suddenly felt an overwhelming desire to kill."

Haubold, quoted by District Attorney James N. Gehrig as giving that explanation, was arraigned on a first degree murder charge in Nassau county district court before Judge Leslie J. Ekenberg.

The youth was ordered held in jail without bail for grand jury action after his attorney, George V. Fleckenstein, unsuccessfully had sought to have the charge dismissed because "the defendant concededly is under 16," or to have the case transferred to children's court.

Judge Ekenberg denied both motions, and Haubold was removed to the county jail and held in a cell adjoining that of Ward Beecher Caraway, 23-year-old Negro butler awaiting resumption of his trial on a first degree murder charge in the slaying of a Long Island socialite.

Before his arraignment, Haubold accompanied Assistant District Attorney David Holman, two detectives and a court stenographer to the spot in a lonely woods where on Saturday the younger boy met his death.

Holman quoted the boy as saying he had "slept well" last night in jail, had awakened "about five a. m. because he was hungry" and then went back to sleep when no food was available at that hour.

Earlier Gehrig said Haubold had admitted the stabbing, which occurred at nearby Wantagh during what ostensibly was a duck hunting trip. Gehrig said the youth related he stabbed his companion "first in the back and then a number of other times."

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Heart Beats

The heart is a modest organ. It carries on its supremely important work without attracting any attention to itself, so that ordinarily we go about our daily business without being in the least aware of the faithful little pump whose constant beating keeps us alive.

Once in a while, though, this beating may become rapid and noticeable enough for us to become conscious of it. This condition is known as palpitation and, from time to time, nearly everybody experiences it.

So, it is well to say at the outset that palpitation is very rarely due to serious disease. Furthermore, most of the conditions which cause it are easily relieved by treatment. Thus it is easy to see that there is no real cause for the feeling of alarm and anxiety which palpitation so frequently arouses in the minds of those who observe it in themselves.

Palpitation may occur in healthy persons who are under some severe physical or emotional strain. Hence, when it arises in such cases, it is no cause for concern.

One of the most frequent causes of palpitation is a disturbance of the rate of rhythm of the heart. The most common of these disorders is what is known as extrasystole. In this condition, the patient complains of a sudden jump or skip of the heart. Following the extra beat, there is usually an abnormally long pause.

Extrasystole may be produced by the excessive use of tobacco, alcohol or caffeine-containing beverages. The drug known as digitalis may also produce it. Swelling of the bowel and stomach due to excessive gas is another cause. In some cases the cause cannot be found.

According to Dr. Tinsley Harrison of Dallas, frequently no treatment is necessary, in cases of extrasystole, other than to reassure the patient and make him realize that the extra beat is not a serious disorder. If the extrabeats are frequent and produce a great deal of distress, treatment with potassium preparations or quinidine may be employed. The latter preparation should not be used if there is any serious damage to the heart.

Other causes of palpitation of the heart are the group of conditions known as tachycardia, which means rapid heart beat. Most of these conditions arise because of actual damage to the heart. The physician will be able to diagnose them by means of an electrocardiogram, or electrical tracing, of the heart beat and then carry out the proper treatment.

Palpitation of the heart may be produced by conditions outside of the heart itself. These include low blood sugar, anemia or lack of coloring in the blood, and excessive thyroid secretion or hyperthyroidism. Certain nervous disorders may also be responsible.

In all cases of palpitation, a careful study to find the cause is needed before deciding on the treatment.

American Woman And Army Lieutenant Killed

By The Associated Press

NUERNBERG, Germany, Oct. 29 — The U. S. Third Army public relations division said yesterday the American woman who died with an Army lieutenant early Saturday expired from gas asphyxiation five hours before the officer was killed by a bullet.

The dead were identified as Lt. William Roth of North Texas City, Texas, and Mrs. Helen L. Sherman, Kansas City.

Roth was 33 and Mrs. Sherman was 39. Both were employed in the Palace of Justice where the German war criminals were tried.

It was denied officially that there was any suspicion of murder.

Mrs. Roth at the time of her husband's death was enroute from the United States to join him. Acquaintances said Roth had been associating frequently with Mrs. Sherman, who they said was separated from her husband.

Meet the World's Fussiest Housekeeper!

A modern milk plant actually works about eight hours a day. But it spends at least twelve hours a day getting ready to do that eight hours of work!

There's no more fastidious housekeeper in the world than the man who manages one of these plants. Under his eagle eye, every single piece of equipment used in pasteurizing and bottling is taken apart after each day's operation, washed, scrubbed, inspected and finally sterilized by live steam.

This is an operation which the average milk consumer knows little about—but it is an important link in the long chain of sanitary precautions that makes bottled milk so safe and wholesome.

One of the extra safeguards this dairy uses is the Sealright Hood. Sealed on the bottle at 500 degrees F., this paper closure provides water-proof, tamper-proof protection of the pouring lip of our bottle. It keeps it safe from contact with hands or other exposure all the way from dairy to you. And that is important—because every drop of milk in the bottle must pass over that pouring lip.

Africa's Leopard Men On Terror Prowl Again

By R. F. S. DEWDNEY
Associated Press Writer

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, Oct. 28—The Leopard Men of Africa are on the prowl again, official reports state that upward of 200 clawed and mutilated victims of the Leopard Men, have been found in the jungle fastnesses.

Nobody knows the exact origin of the Leopard Men, or "Anyotos," but they have given more trouble to white administrators than any other secret society in the history of African colonization. They spread terror among various tribes from Mozambique, across the Congo to the west African coast.

Wear Leopard Skin

The Anyoto wears a leopard skin draped over his head and down to the waist, with two holes cut for the eyes. On each wrist is an ingenious iron bracelet with four sharp prongs which lie flat against the hand when open but project forward like claws when the fist is clenched. They often carry a stick with a replica of a leopard's paw on one end. By jabbing this into damp soil they give the impression of a leopard stalking a victim.

On the warpath, the Leopard Men wait beside a jungle trail until an unsuspecting villager comes along. Then, shrieking like the animals they emulate they spring on his back and claw out the jugular vein with their iron hooks. The body is dragged into a convenient clearing and mutilated amid a frenzy of fanatical mumbo-mumbo.

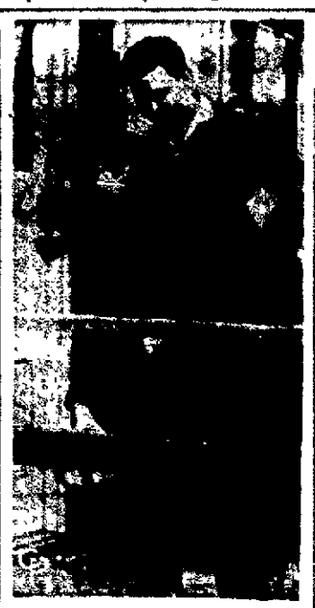
The witch doctor takes what he needs for his "medicines," and then the bag of charms called the "Bofima" is produced for the ceremony of keeping it "alive." The black bag of human skin about the size of a large sausage is kept "alive" by periodical painting with human blood. Finally, the Leopard Men eat parts of their victim to protect them from sickness and endow them with certain mystic virtues.

Use Special Ointment

The Leopard Men often use a specially prepared ointment, containing an ingredient like pepper, which is pushed into the nostrils before a ritual murder and is supposed to cause violent excitement while dulling the senses. The Leopard Men believe that if they fail to kill their victim the ointment in their noses will swell and suffocate them.

Initiation into the sect is a terrible ordeal, lasting for two months and including torture and mutilation which must be borne with stoicism. The witch doctor impresses on the young men the vital necessity for complete obedience to the leader and for absolute secrecy. Death is the penalty for disobedience. In the final ceremony the laki, or chief leopard, cuts the prescribed ritual marks in the flesh of the recruit who then becomes a full fledged Anyoto.

Terrorism is a potent weapon and colonial authorities find it almost impossible to secure reliable evidence against the Leopard Men, even from intended victims who may escape. They do not often escape.



GOOD FOR EVIL. Jacob Deshazer of Madras, Ore., one of the Doolittle raiders who spent years in filthy Jap prisons, and his wife enter their veterans' housing unit home at Seattle, where they are preparing for missionary work. The couple's destination is the same Japan, where Deshazer hopes to repay good for evil.

3 LOSSES SEEN BY DEMOCRATS

Concede They May Fail in West Virginia Congressional Fights.

By The Associated Press

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Oct. 29—Despite their statewide registered majority of around 175,000, some prominent Democrats concede close races and possible losses in three of West Virginia's six congressional districts.

One of these districts is the First, where the veteran campaigner Matthew M. Neely was able to win in 1944 by fewer than 1,000 votes.

One other district was captured last time by fewer than 5,000. This was the Fourth. The seat is now occupied by Republican Hubert S. Ellis. The Democrats say they figure to win it with a newcomer to politics, M. G. Burnside of Huntington, a Marshall college professor, who won a lopsided primary victory.

May Lose 2 More.

The other two districts which the Democrats concede they may lose are the Second now represented by Jennings Randolph, and the Third, represented by Cleveland M. Bailey.

Democratic sources feel the registered majorities are too big for Republican candidates to overcome in the Fifth and Sixth districts.

The First district traditionally goes from one political party to the other. Neely's opponent is Francis Love of Wheeling.

Randolph, who has been in congress since 1932, is opposed by Melvin C. Snyder, ex-army colonel and for many years prosecutor of his home county of Preston.

Bailey is opposed in the third district by F. G. Rohrbough, retired college president. Bailey beat him two years ago by 5,455 votes.

Formidable Campaigner.

Burnside proved himself a formidable campaigner by defeating two strong opponents in the primary, and the Fourth district might conceivably be close unless there is a landslide for one party or the other.

Burnside has labor support, but in Ellis' favor is the fact that the Fourth district is largely rural and traditionally Republican.

Rep. John Kee in the Fifth, is opposed by Hartley Sanders, Princeton attorney and the Republican nominee in 1944.

A young municipal judge and a vigorous campaigner is opposing Rep. E. H. Hedrick in the Sixth. This is 38-year-old Harold H. Neff who attracted wide attention in the primary with an ice cream truck in which he toured his district passing out cones to the kiddies, at the same time giving them a campaign card to take home.

There is Plenty of Natural Gas but no way to get it to you this Winter in Sufficient Quantities

Today, it is as hard to get steel pipe as it is to get automobiles and houses.

Like coal, sugar, housing and many other necessities, gas is in short supply now and will remain so until construction material to build the planned pipelines, compressor stations, storage and distribution plants becomes available.

Anticipating heavy consumption, The Columbia Gas System began in 1945 a $50,000,000 construction program to increase our capacity to serve you.

Despite our utmost efforts, shortages of steel and other necessary items have made it impossible for us to complete the enlargements planned.

There is enough gas at the source! But the same economic maladjustment that prevents you from getting the goods you want, prevents our principal suppliers from building the facilities and delivering to The Columbia Gas System an adequate supply of gas from the vast gas reserves in Texas.

The Columbia Gas & Electric Corporation, of which THE OHIO FUEL GAS COMPANY is a subsidiary, operates 32,629 miles of transmission and distribution lines. It owns in excess of 9,000 producing gas wells and purchases the entire output of approximately 6,500 wells owned by independent producers. In addition, it is now taking into its transmission and distribution systems 160,000,000 cubic feet of gas a day from Texas through the long distance pipelines of its principal suppliers. Further, we have now placed in underground storage reservoirs 42 billion feet of gas which is available against high winter demand, 4 billion cubic feet more than we have ever before stored.

However the demand for natural gas has increased in unprecedented proportions. Much of this increase—as much as 125,000,000 additional cubic feet on a severely cold day—is due to the increasingly popular demand for gas for home heating.

So, in common with suppliers of other vitally needed commodities, your Gas Company will experience shortages in its gas supply and it may be necessary to curtail your fuel supply in severe weather.

You can conserve the available supply of gas just as you can—and do—conserve sugar, fats, meat, and other "short" commodities.

Use your available supply of gas sparingly and wisely. By doing this now and continuing to do so, you will be helping yourself and your neighbor. For the gas you save today will be stored against the time when your community is experiencing a period of severe cold. Your Gas Company will make suggestions as to how you can conserve your supply.

Meanwhile, The Columbia Gas System is exerting every possible effort to increase its production, its capacity, and to obtain larger deliveries from its suppliers so that curtailment in time of weather crisis can be kept to a minimum.

Unfinished Business

HOUSING, it now becomes evident, was the unfinished business of greatest importance bequeathed to the 80th congress by the 79th.

President Truman's frantic efforts at the close of last week to take his administration off the spot before the congressional election with a suspension of tariffs on Canadian lumber, an injection of RFC plasma for prefabricated housing companies and a premium payment plan for boosting nail production show how desperately inadequate all measures so far provided have turned out to be. For want of a nail, the unhoused may go homeless.

There is no political issue in housing, at least none that can be fooled with safely. The present housing problem under a Democratic administration was accumulating under Republican administrations after World War I. In Franklin D. Roosevelt's second inaugural address, in 1937, the statement that one-third of the nation was ill-housed could not be refuted. Both major political parties have grappled with the problem of an acute shortage of decent housing; both have failed.

They have had company in their misery. Private enterprise, which has boasted with pardonable pride of its ability to give Americans such marvels as automobiles at low prices, never has discovered how to give them equally satisfactory houses at commensurate prices. Building trades workmen share responsibility, because they have kept prices unreasonably high by practices which lacked economic justification. Local government has been guilty of shortsighted regulations. Social planners, rushing into the vacuum of frustration, have emerged from the ordeal sadder but wiser.

Every proposal for improvement, whether good or bad, automatically creates a determined opposition. Housing has become the American problem that everybody talks about but no one can agree about, and the most violent disagreement of all is among the so-called experts themselves. It is actually a question whether the United States may be accumulating a net deficit in its usable housing at the very time when it professes to be doing its utmost to develop a net increase.

Certainly there is no pending question of public policy and action whose status of neglect needs humbler apology than a shortage of decent housing that now has existed for a full generation in a land of plenty.

No Nose-Cutting

PRIME Minister Attlee told the British Trade Union Congress something about workers last week that makes as much sense here as it does in Great Britain.

"To match the economics of full employment," he said to representatives of Britain's organized workers, "we need the ethics of full employment . . . Workers must realize that, whether they work for the state or for a private employer, they are producing the stock of goods and services from which we all derive the necessities and amenities of life . . . It is therefore natural that I, as head of the government, should ask all of you, as leaders of labor, to do your utmost to impress on all the simple truth that every worker is concerned, not just with his own wage, still less with somebody's profit, but with the standard of life of the nation and, indeed, the very life of our country."

The British are trying to recoup their strength after a devastating war. They have turned to a program of state socialism. In the United States, trying to do the same thing under more favorable circumstances, the trend is away from state socialism toward private enterprise. The goals are identical—to provide what people want and need, and to provide it before money in the hands of the people loses its value for lack of things to buy. In both countries there is a shortage of workers to do what needs to be done, and in both countries there has been a puzzling reluctance of workers to put their interests as producers and consumers ahead of the interests of economic saboteurs whose motive obviously is to interfere with production in the hope of creating economic desperation and, ultimately, political revolution.

These saboteurs know their goose is cooked if the British and the Americans ever get into their potential stride of production. It would be a revelation to both nations, because both were preoccupied before war began with nostrums to shorten their productive stride, under the illusion that overproduction was the problem to be solved. Full employment, which now is feasible, then seemed impractical. In short, the very condition which honest labor leaders always have yearned for now exists and could be enjoyed were it not for the grim opposition of a minority determined to persuade workers to cut off their noses to spite their faces.

STRANGELY FAMILIAR

Following the World War I we scrapped dreadnaughts that later on we would have given our eye teeth to possess. Now we are selling super-bombers for the price of scrap. Meanwhile, the world is smoking at every crevice and war is possible at 1000 points. Is history staging one of its fatal repetitions?—Daily Oklahoman.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Cotton Market Situation Still a Mystery.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29—What happened to the cotton market is harder to find out here than the size of the Russian army.

Likeliest explanation is large users of cotton cloth and speculators had been buying too optimistically, figuring a continuous inflation would give them a profit any time, but found out from what has been happening to other markets since OPA disorganization, that there might not be a continuous inflation after all. As a result they started running the other way at once, as fast as they had been talking the market up.

Actually the price of cotton was too high for any reasonable expectations excepting an endless rise higher and higher—in short a further heavy inflation. It was at 40 cents a pound, actually 320 per cent above the pre-war years. No wonder it fell $25 a bale in three days and caused the exchanges to close the day thereafter, and hold the net period loss to about $30 a bale (the recovery thereafter was weak, which tends to prove my theory.)

And it is not out of natural sequence, that the New York cotton cloth district now has suddenly loosened up on shirts, promising that all cotton goods including sheets, underwear and towels will be urged toward the starving consumer market. Perhaps a consumer may get what he needs without consulting a cotton goods bootlegger.

Story Too Simple

But this inside story of the affair is far too simple. No one in political life seems to think nature took its course, but all have filled the air and newspapers with stories about political plots, fat but hidden speculators who acted in concert, a lax government administration of the market, a bad foreign selling policy on the part of the government, even old rumors of congressmen speculating—or nearly any story you may wish to hear.

The senate agriculture committee conducted an investigation—and adjourned until after the election, which is a convenient time. The hearings lasted one day and it developed that no one had any sure idea of what had happened, or what caused it. Senator Thomas, the chairman, scented a flagrant but fragrant plot of the Republicans to capture his home state of Oklahoma thereby. He said flatly the drop was "brought about artificially for political purposes." This seemed a rather high price to pay for Oklahoma, even if any Republicans had that much money and wanted to spend it for that uncertain purpose.

The hearing, you see, had developed the information that the cotton farmers had lost about $225,000,000 to $250,000,000 in the fall of the market, so obviously the decline, if purchased, would run high in cost—far more than any Republicans have been seen with lately. The story otherwise failed to add up high, because no one suggested the Democrats might lose any other cotton state, say Texas or Mississippi, because of the break.

At any rate, the committee is sending out questionnaires to find out who sold cotton on those three big days. As some rumor has been published by someone or other that Thomas himself had speculated in the cotton market, Thomas himself mentioned to reporters that his move to disclose the names certainly indicated he was not in the market at that time, as he would hardly be moving to expose himself.

Other Stories Told

The other stories are held in varying esteem by those who chose to believe them. The government director of the cotton exchanges did not undertake to tell anyone what happened — indeed, my agents suggest he was not even asked — but offered some evidence on cotton prices so complex that none of the reporters could understand it, if any of the investigators did (the investigators are looking it over). He admitted perhaps the government allows too much opportunity for speculation in futures buying (allowing one man theoretically to accumulate 480,000 bales) and the cotton senators were talking about making a law next session that government exchange controls be tightened—but all this to be after election.

Yet frankly there may be too high a stock of the cotton goods which have been kept from the public for years on the plea of shortages—possibly held in expectation of higher prices. Before the war eight manufacturers made bedcovers. Now there are 221, each with his inventory of cotton goods. The civilian production administration conservatively thinks there may be a billion yards of cotton cloth in inventories, or 10 per cent of the annual high production rate at present. Some say privately that 60 per cent of recent production may have gone into warehouses in expectation of higher prices. Wary department stores were not buying and shoddy goods had become unsaleable.

You would not believe a break in the cotton market was possible at a time when a consumer can not get a shirt, towel, sheet, or cotton undergarment, but these unadvertised and hidden factors in the situation are possibly—just possibly—subject to a logical interpretation.

It is evident the nation is in a new period of price readjustment.

The New Republic—The Same Old Henry

A testimonial from Henry Wallace, recently named editor of The New Republic, is currently being exploited by a rival publication.

Thus alleviated are any doubts one may have had as to the new editor's identity . . . it's our Henry, all right.

Mr. Wallace has changed occupations, not foibles. He's still doing blundering at the same old stand.

But it will be interesting to see what he does with the printed page, his previous peccadillos being perpetrated by word of foot-in-mouth.

Incidentally, once Henry assumes complete control, The New Republic will probably be the only magazine in history with footnotes to clarify footnotes.

Other publishers are watching his entrance into the magazine field with interest. The paper shortage grows increasingly acute. But as yet no one has suggested plowing under subscribers.

(This is the third of a series of six articles on political situation).

* * *

IN THE preceding articles in this series, 37 of the 48 states were considered. Those states stand to elect 144 Republican members of the house. The remaining eleven states present varying degrees of uncertainty, but in five of them trends and probabilities are becoming more clearly defined.

In New York, indications are multiplying that Governor Thomas E. Dewey is going to be elected by a very large majority. Senator James M. Mead, who is Dewey's opponent, is not catching on. People don't seem to take him seriously. On the other hand, it seems to be recognized on all sides that Dewey has been an efficient governor. Moreover, he has deeply impressed minority racial groups. He may even win New York City. A Dewey victory by the majority now probable would take five congressional seats from the Democrats. One of these is the Rochester district; two are in Queens Borough; one is in the Bronx and one in Manhattan. The would provide the Republicans with 27 seats from New York.

Pennsylvania Leader

Governor Edward Martin is going to beat Senator Joseph F Guffey in Pennsylvania by a whacking majority. That will win three Philadelphia districts and three elsewhere in the state and means 25 Republicans from the Keystone state. Besides, John L Lewis is moving against the government, with Nov. 1 as the day of omen. That may further affect the Pennsylvania vote.

It certainly will have repercussions in West Virginia and Kentucky, and Mr. John L. Lewis as a Republican, may well let the coal scuttle hit whom it may. It may do great damage to Senator Harley M. Kilgore and his associated Democratic house members from his state. West Virginia now has one Republican congressman. It will probably have two in the next congress.

Kentucky is in turmoil. The senate is neck and neck. Three Democratic seats are in danger. A conservative guess is that its present lone Republican congressman will be joined by another.

For 18 years or more, Delaware has elected a Republican congressman, except when Roosevelt was running. This is the year for a Republican.

Change in Nevada.

At this point, this reporter must pause for a short meal of words. In the article before this, the reader was advised to skip Nevada because it looked as if the Democrats would keep the house seat. More information has come in which suggests that something is happening out there. The house seat will probably go Republican, and the Democrats will keep the senatorship.

With six states in the west and mid-west to be considered, the tally at this point is 202 Republican house members. For the benefit of those who wish to anticipate the final round-up of house seats, it should be added that the states still to be considered are Missouri, Oklahoma, New Mexico, California, Idaho and Washington. Those states now have 18 Republican congressmen. That means that without any gains, the Republicans in this survey now have 220 seats—two more than they need. But there will be some further gains in the states still to be considered.

Another Obstacle To Peace

By WALTER LIPPMANN

ON THE question of the military forces which the Big Three are maintaining in foreign countries we have an unusual opportunity to make things much worse or to begin making them considerably better. It depends at the outset on how the question is put.

The fact is that all of the Big Three have armed forces today in places where they did not have them in 1939. They are not only in Germany and Japan but in the places which the Axis had conquered and was then compelled to evacuate. They are in Poland, Austria and Yugoslavia, in Italy and the Italian empire, Greece and Indonesia, in Manchuria, Korea, North China and the former Japanese island empire in the Pacific.

They are where they are by agreement among the Big Three made during the war under their common strategical plan for winning the war. But, since there is no common diplomatic plan for the settlement of the war, these forces are a constant cause of conflict, threat, suspicion and embarrassment. They are the nettle which statesmen will have to grasp if they are to make any progress toward a workable settlement among the great powers.

Thus far, however, no one of the Big Three has been willing to deal with the situation as a whole. While many noble words have been uttered about dividing one world into rival blocs, none of the statesmen who are attempting to make peace has as yet taken the position that there can be no settlement in one of the three spheres of military influence except as part of a general settlement in all of them. On the contrary, each has sought to consolidate its position in its own sphere and to interfere in some other sphere.

All have used either the formal veto or its equivalent to avoid a negotiation which would treat each of the spheres as one element of the whole world-wide distribution of power. Thus far they have all sought separate settlements in some one of the spheres and this is perhaps the final and controlling reason why there is as yet not even the beginning, not even the project, not even the idea, of a general settlement, and why peace-making has degenerated into a competition for advantage in the event of a war.

Work for Own Ends

All three of the big powers have selected some partial and special aspect of the military situation and have exploited it for their own special and separate ends.

Thus the Soviet Union has asked the Security Council to compel the members to tell publicly "in what places on the territory of the United Nations or other states, not including ex-enemy territories, and in what numbers the armed forces of other United Nations are situated"; at what places in the above mentioned territories air or sea bases are established and what is the size of the garrison of these bases."

This would oblige the Soviet Union to disclose its military position in Poland, Yugoslavia, in Czechoslovakia, in Iran and perhaps in Austria, but not in Germany, in Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria, or in Korea, and perhaps not in Outer Mongolia. It would oblige the British to disclose their military position in Greece and in the Arab states and in Indonesia, but not in Germany, Italy or in the Italian colonial empire. It would oblige us to disclose our military position in China, the Philippines and Panama, but not in Japan, Germany, or the Pacific Islands.

(After the article by Mr. Lippmann had been distributed, Marshal Stalin yesterday disclosed in answers to questions by Hugh Baillie, president of the United Press, that Russia had 60 divisions of troops in the west, but did not detail numerical distribution country by country.)

Real Problem Ignored

The proposal is, obviously, a rather poor attempt to be too smart. It ignores the real problem which arises from the fact that the world is strategically one, even if it is politically disunited and, therefore, it is the balance of all the forces, not the size of one force separately, which matters. The Soviet proposal was designed to embarrass the British, and in less degree the United States, not to advance a settlement. It is not an act of statesmanship, but a device of propaganda and psychological warfare.

But we also have tried to deal with this question partially and without seeking a general settlement. A controlling reason why we have dedicated a year of peace-making to the satellites in the Russian orbit is that we hoped, quite vainly as the event has shown, that treaties of peace with the satellites would compel the Red Army to retire from eastern Europe. At the same time we have held that a settlement of the Italian and other colonial territories could wait, and we have not been ready for a general negotiation about the islands in the Pacific which we conquered, and may wish to annex or at least to hold on to.

Thus far the British and we have used the veto or its equivalent to avoid discussion of our respective military positions in our own spheres of military influence.

Yet if ever and whenever we resume genuine diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union, and get down to the realities, we shall have to begin our serious discussion where Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin left off: With an examination of the distribution of power among the Big Three. For the arguments by Messrs. Bevin, Molotov and Byrnes have dealt not only with the periphery of Europe, but with the symptoms rather than the actualities of the trouble among the Big Three. They have not dealt with the substance of their relationship as a

Armistice and Thanksgiving Day Proclamations Issued

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Following is the text of President Truman's Armistice Day proclamation:

Armistice Day, 1946

By the President of the United States of America.

A proclamation.

Whereas the armistice of November 11, 1918, silenced the guns of World War I and brought to humanity hope and promise that wars of nation against nation were at an end; and

Whereas although that hope and promise were shattered by the acts aggressors in World War II, the American people are nevertheless resolved to keep faith with the heroes of both wars who sacrificed so valorously for the ideal of lasting peace; and

Whereas the anniversary of the Armistice of 1918 provides a challenge to re-dedicate ourselves to the attainment of that goal; and

Whereas the congress, by a concurrent resolution of June 4, 1936 (44 Stat. 1982), requested the President to issue a proclamation calling upon officials to display the flag of the United States on all government buildings on November 11, and inviting the people to observe the day with appropriate ceremonies; and by an act of May 3, 1938 (52 Stat. 351), provided that the eleventh day of November in each year should be celebrated and known as Armistice Day and should be a legal holiday.

Now, therefore, I, Harry S. Truman, President of the United States of America, do hereby call upon the people of the United States to observe November 11, 1946, as Armistice Day by honoring their countrymen who fought across the seas, and by renewing their determination and their efforts to establish a lasting peace; and I direct that the flag of the United States be displayed on all government buildings on that day.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington this twenty-eighth day of October in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and forty-six, and of the independence of the United States of America the one hundred and seventy-first.

By the President, Harry S. Truman.

James F. Byrnes, Secretary of State."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Following is the text of President Truman's Thanksgiving Day proclamation:

Thanksgiving Day, 1946.

By the President of the United States of America.

A proclamation.

At this season when the year is drawing to a close tradition suggests and our hearts require that we render humble devotion to Almighty God for the mercies bestowed upon us by His goodness.

Devoutly grateful to divine province for the richness of our endowment and the many blessings received, may we continue to give a good account of our stewardship by utilizing our resources in the service of mankind. May we have the vision and courage to accept and discharge honorably the responsibilities inherent in our strength by consecrating ourselves to the attainment of a better world.

Now, therefore, I, Harry S. Truman, President of the United States of America, in consonance with the joint resolution of congress approved Dec. 26, 1941, do hereby proclaim Thursday, November 28, 1946, as a day of national Thanksgiving; and I call upon the people of this nation to observe that day by offering thanks to God for the bounties vouchsafed us, and by rededicating ourselves to the preservation of the 'blessings of liberty' envisaged by our forefathers in the preamble to the constitution.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington this twenty-eighth day of October in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and forty-six and of the independence of the United States of America the one hundred and seventy-first.

genuine diplomatic negotiation would have to.

The day will come, however, when the Big Three will not merely play power politics, but will be compelled to negotiate about the distribution of their power. Then we shall discuss in one discussion, and in their bearing upon one another, the Red Army in eastern Europe and in eastern Asia, the British and the American Armies, fleets, air forces and atomic weapons in Europe, in the Middle East and the Far East. That will be the beginning of the real peace conference.

Then we shall be seeking, as peacemakers must, an equilibrium of power as the foundation of a general settlement of the war, and of the United Nations as the organized effort of mankind.

Until then we shall all be engaged not in settling the war we have just won, or making the United Nations secure, but in pretending to do these things while we are more deeply preoccupied with the quest of special advantage and the conduct of psychological warfare.

The faithful and conscientious school teacher is one of the most effective forces for good in the life of Marion!

Studies show that among the sixteen Ohio cities in our population group, Marion ranks next to last in the amount of money spent per pupil for schools. Since more than 75% of current school costs go for teaching purposes, this means that the salaries of Marion teachers are among the lowest in cities of our size. Let's correct this now!

Embroidered minon was used for the yoke and inserts trimming the princess style gown. Her finger-up veil of illusion was trimmed with lace caught to a beaded tiara and she wore a strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom and an heirloom diamond and opal ring which was worn by her mother on her wedding day. Her bouquet held white roses and baby chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Evan Evans, who was her sister's matron of honor, wore a blue gown and the bridesmaids, Mrs. Robert Weakley, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Eugene Price, sister-in-law of the bride, were identical gowns of pink taffeta. Prejudices Starting at Home Act As Threat To Democracy

By KATHARINE F. LENROOT
Chief, U. S. Children's Bureau
Written for Associated Press

WASHINGTON — Hitler knew what kind of youth he wanted and how to get them.

That fact bears thinking about this week devoted to better citizenship. Do we know what kind of youth we want, and are we as a people, willing to do what needs to be done if our children are to grow up toward the ideal we hold for them?

I wonder. There are disturbing signs everywhere that lip-service at best, if that much, is being given to one of the most fundamental tenets of democracy—namely, that no man is to be discriminated against because of his race, his creed, or his color.

Hitler wanted the young people of Germany to believe they were destined to rule the world and that all other peoples were their inferiors. They had every right, being superior-born; others had no rights. Hitler's youth were well-taught and well-trained. The world knows all too well the results in human suffering.

What Hitler taught was, and is, abhorrent to us, for any idea that one group is superior or has rights that do not belong to all men does not square with our democratic philosophy. Yet our profession of faith is not always backed up, as Hitler's was, with action in line with that faith.

Such an anti-democratic attitude—and we should call it by its right name—is being met with in many places where our young people are influenced. They recite together on occasion the American creed as expressed in the Declaration of Independence, but they often see its truth denied on the playground and in the neighborhood.

This prejudiced attitude is not always expressed out in the open, as in name-calling among children. Name-calling is relatively harmless compared with the more subtle forms this prejudice takes later when invitation lists are made up for the sororities and fraternities. Then some have to learn that the religion of one's parents or one's grandparents does make a difference in this country. Other boys and girls learn an even harder lesson in even more cruel ways. They learn that the color of their skin can close opportunities to them all along the way.

Where do our young people acquire these attitudes that are so contrary to what we profess to believe?

In the home, for the most part. Words used there to describe other people in the neighborhood and a general attitude on the part of the parents implant the idea that some peoples are inferior or dangerous, or at least different in an undesirable way.

What is needed as much as anything in this world today, and what is going to be needed even more in the world in which today's children are going to have to live, is a fundamental respect for and appreciation of all peoples, no matter what their race, their creed, their color.

Most of us are willing to give lip-service to such an ideal. Are we ready, though, in our homes, our schools, our churches, and through our government, to spend even part of the energy toward that goal that Hitler directed into inculcating the opposite attitude into the youth of Germany?

WELLSVILLE SCHOOL PUT ON PROBATION

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 29—The Ohio High School Athletic association today placed Wellsville High school on probation for removing its football team from the field of play before the end of its game last week with Mingo Junction.

OHSAA Commissioner H. W. Emswiler said the probationary period would extend through the balance of this school year and all of next.

Wellsville's coach Mearle Atkins withdrew his team in the third period of the Mingo tilt, claiming the game was getting out of the hands of Referee Steve Maslanik of Ambridge, Pa., and that he feared the "unsportsmanlike" play might result in injuries to the players. Mingo was leading Wellsville, 35 to 0, at the time.

Emswiler pointed out, however, that Atkins was not permitted by OHSSA rules to take such action. He said schools must agree on officials before a game started and once underway it was entirely in the hands of officials.

Wellsville was the third school to be placed on probation by the OHSSA in two days. Hanging Rock of Lawrence county and Mifflin of Franklin were disciplined similarly yesterday. Hanging Rock for removing its team from the field before the game's end and Mifflin for not providing adequate police protection in last week's game with Grove City which wound up in what Emswiler termed "a fracas involving spectators."

Emswiler said any violation of rules during the probationary periods would bring suspension from the OHSSA, prohibiting teams from playing OHSSA member schools or participating in OHSSA - sponsored tournaments and meets.

PILES
ARE NEVER "MILD"
DANGER IN NEGLECT

No one should ever think of piles (hemorrhoids) as a "mild" disorder.

Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formation without tendency to heal themselves; instead, they are likely, if neglected to keep increasing in size, involving more and more of the rectal area.

Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting, predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as: indigestion, biliousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches, pain in back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its rundown tired feeling and general nervous irritability.

Removal of piles is the only permanent relief — written guarantee. My method produces little or no discomfort, does not require the use of knife or drugs, and seldom is the patient required to lose any time from work or other duties.

Why not call and learn of this method? The examination is free.

PENNSYLVANIA EYED BY G.O.P.

Strike-Riddled State Seen as "Happy Hunting Ground" by Republicans.

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 29—Republicans looked today on strike-plagued Pennsylvania as a happy hunting ground for what they say might be the G.O.P.'s biggest demonstration of power Nov. 5. Democrats counted on a last-minute shift to elect senate, house and governor candidates.

Wearied by steel, coal, manufacturing, power, hotel and even beer strikes, Pennsylvanians appeared to be preparing to translate into action at the polls a week from today some of the dissatisfaction they seemed to have with the way things have been going in general.

Gov. Edward Martin and Republican State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor interpreted this in terms of what Taylor called a "sweeping" victory for the Republican ticket with the G.O.P. holding its governorship, ousting Senator Joseph Guffey (D) and picking up from five to eight house seats from the Democrats. Any such outcome probably would represent the Republicans' largest gains in any one state.

Governor Martin put the Republican claims into more specific terms. He said the whole ticket would win by a margin of 275,000 votes.

But Guffey, meeting Martin's challenge for his seat, and J. Warren Mickle, state Democratic chairman, saw it in different light.

Guffey told this reporter he thinks there has been a "definite turn" in sentiment among the prospective voters in the last few days from what he and other Democrats generally had recognized earlier as a national tide running against the "ins."

"We've got a good chance to win this election," said Guffey, who has become the focal point of a Republican drive at discrediting the national administration's handling of the problems of reconversion.

The state's rash of strikes spilled over into the political arena recently when AFL teamster leaders called on their members to support the Republican ticket in the controversy with the CIO Brewery Workers. The Democrats have a CIO indorsement but the AFL state federation declined to choose between the parties.

Even more potent politically may be what a Philadelphia Evening Bulletin poll indicates today is a buyers' strike in which people with money in their pockets are refusing to purchase available commodities because of high prices.

Jim's heart must weigh darn near 2 pounds!

The average heart—so the docs say—weighs around 10 ounces. We figure that Jim's heart is a lot larger.

For Jim is not only giving a man-sized chunk of money to the Community Chest, but he's ALSO donating his time and energy as a volunteer solicitor.

If he calls on you at your office, give him a good break. Remember that the time he's taken from his own work will probably have to be made up at night.

If he (or his good wife) calls at your home, remember that he's giving up spare time that is precious to him . . .

He's got storm windows to paint and screens to take down. He'd like to be out bowling with the gang —or sitting down to a game of bridge. He, too, "brought some work home from the office." He, too, would like to take his family out for a ride in the car.

But the most important job in life this week, he figures, is to make a success of this drive for our Community Chest and its Red Feather health and welfare services.

As a matter of fact, Jim's heart is pretty light. When he sees neighbor after neighbor cheerfully dig deep and give—HE KNOWS HE LIVES AND WORKS IN A TOWN THAT CARES.

Won't you have your contribution ready for him when he calls on you?

Everybody gives when Everybody

For more than a year, we have been trying to buy the necessary supplies and equipment we need to enlarge our system so that an ample supply of gas would be available to all our customers. We planned to meet a demand that is the greatest in history.

But we've seen empty shelves, too! We ordered pipe, and valves, and compressors. We've searched for machinery and materials. And so far, we have received but a small fraction of what we needed for our 1946 program. Extensions that we had intended to make this year must be postponed until our requirements can be met.

For that reason, it was necessary that we discontinue conversion to gas heating in those homes which have other available methods. With this policy, plus the cooperation of our customers, we hope that no one will suffer serious inconvenience this winter.

Our program of expansion calls for an investment of some $25,000,000.00. It will be continued as rapidly as possible so that you, and all our customers will have the gas service that you expect, and that we intend to render.

British Weigh Probe of Conservative Press

By The Associated Press

LONDON Oct 29—Britain's labor government, increasingly resentful of criticism of its domestic policies in many British newspapers, dumped into the lap of the house of commons today a proposal that the press should be investigated A vote was forecast by tonight.

Although whips were called off so that members could vote their own desires, thus increasing the fury of one of the hardest fights between press and government in British history

The general expectation was that the government would set up a royal commission to report on who owns which papers and what, if any, advertising or other financial influences affect policies

A great many floor and table lamps will be bought for gift-giving this Christmas.

You may select the lamp of your choice now, pay a little each week as you go along and we will deliver your lamp for Christmas or just about whenever you want it delivered Whatever balance may be due at that time you can arrange to pay on terms that suit your convenience.

The advantage of an early selection is that you get your choice of a complete stock. If you wait till later on stocks are bound to be "picked over" and you are forced to take what is left.

Another advantage is that by paying a small amount each week between now and Christmas you will not miss the money as you would if paying the regular first or down payment at Christmas time.

All of the new lamps are on sample now, and there are many beauties among them. Come in any time and look them over. Welcome.

To the Independent Voter:

Are you looking for the right course in this critical year?

Are you tired of "shortages" of all necessities?

Are you disgusted with a New Deal administration that has promised our deserving veterans everything—but given them nothing?

Have you had enough of Washington's coaxing people to feel sorry for themselves? (Self-pity never got anyone anywhere, even if it's an easy trick to fool us with).

Above all, have you had enough confusing double-talk from the White House down, which by now keeps us from knowing what anyone stands for, any more?

Have you had enough of a New Deal administration that is for the OPA in June and against it in October?

Do you want public leaders and officials who will say what they mean and stick to it?

We need a clean sweep!

Have You Had Enough?

ARMY-NOTRE DAME TILT CALLED DECISIVE

Sports Writers Believe Battle Will Point Out Champ.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 29—The top trio among the country's football powerhouses—Army, Notre Dame and Penn—today headed in that order into the last half of the race to decide the 1946 national championship

And while it appeared more certain than ever that the titanic clash of the Cadets and the Irish here a week from Saturday would all but decide, it also became evident that George Munger's Quakers were going to have their say in the deciding

Army, salting away victory No 24 with its 19-0 win over Duke, had no trouble staying at the top in The Associated Press weekly poll of the nation's sports writers, while Notre Dame enhanced its second-place standing with a 41-6 romp over Iowa

With Texas and Tennessee dumped from the ranks of the unbeaten and untied, Penn's 32-19 verdict over Navy moved the Quakers from sixth place into third Another shift jumped the University of California at Los Angeles, Pacific Coast pace-setter, from fifth to fourth

Penn, like Army and Notre Dame, has an easy week ahead, meeting Princeton while the Cadets ease off with West Virginia and the Irish meet Navy And Columbia, Penn's next opponent, should do nothing to mar the Quaker's unbeaten record going into their No 16 clash with Army

Of the 172 scribes casting ballots in this fourth weekly poll, 104 put Army at the head of the list Sixty-one—40 more than last week—favored Notre Dame as the No 1 team. The other seven first-place ballots were split among Penn, with four, and UCLA, Georgia and Harvard, with one apiece

Based on the usual system of 10 points for a first-place vote, nine for a second, eight for a third, and so on, Army piled up a staggering 1,647 points, 138 more than last week's count Notre Dame picked up 238 over last week for a 1,578 total Penn and UCLA were the two other teams to top the 1,000 mark.

Among those receiving one or more points was Ohio State which got nine.

BASEBALL'S DRAFT SEEN ON WAY OUT

Farm System Growth Knocks Out Annual Selection.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 29—It is becoming more apparent each year that baseball's annual selection more popularly known among the fans as the draft, is dying a slow death due to the growth of the farm system.

With the chain system now in vogue, nearly all of the good prospects in the minors belong to major league teams, and usually they are draft proof. Before the season's close, the parent clubs "purchase" the contracts of their minor league hirelings, and of course when the annual draft meeting is held most of the players left for selection are those least in demand

In the lengthy list recently submitted to big league club owners by Commissioner A. B (Happy) Chandler there are some 3 000 eligibles for the Friday, Nov 1 draft selection—largest in years—but it is difficult even for experienced judges of talent to find half a dozen likely prospects

The list includes Leroy Parmelee, John Hutchings Johnny Riddle Hugh Poland, Bud Methery, Fred Frankhouse, Tom Sunkel, Pete Gray Mike Garbark, Luke Hamlin Jimmy Bucher, Alex Kampouris and Ray Harrell, Cy Buker, Chet Kehn Don Lund Les Burge, Garland Lawing, Boo Wilkins Steve Peek and Johnny Moore

Some of the more opulent clubs have declined to bid for any players Last year 10 players were chosen Of these only two, Gene Handley of the Philadelphia Athletics and Mike Budnick of the New York Giants, lasted out the season.

BIG 9 LIKELY TO SEE ROSE BOWL ACTION

Western Conference Reported Okaying Hookup.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct 29—The Western conference appeared to be ready today to send a representative to the Rose Bowl for the first time in 26 years

Purdue's faculty committee has joined with Michigan, Indiana, Iowa and Ohio State in signifying approval of a 5-year proposal which would give the Big Nine champion, or alternate, the Pasadena trip for three successive years and teams designated by the conference Rose Bowl representation the final two years

Spokesmen of the five schools have unofficially reported acceptance, thus indicating a 5-4 majority to carry the proposal which was put up for ballot vote among the nine conference members Illinois and Minnesota were reported to disfavor the hookup with the Pacific Coast conference, while Northwestern and Wisconsin have yet to ballot on the matter

The results of the poll, however, will not become official until the Dec 14 meeting of the Big Nine, Commissioner K L Wilson said The Pacific Coast winter meeting is scheduled Dec 9

Only after the official OK, can Wilson go ahead and formally present the proposal to Pacific Coast officials. The agreement, however, has been thoroughly discussed and unofficially the Coast conference has been reported unanimously to support it. Most observers believed that there would be ample time to clear the way for the Big Nine champion to play this New Year's day

Ohio State was the last Western conference to play in the Rose Bowl, taking a 21-0 beating by California in 1921 Michigan's 1902 team which crushed Stanford 49-0 in the inaugural Rose Bowl contest was the only other conference appearance.

Edison Juniors Take 19 to 0 Revenge on Vernon Team

Edison Junior last night avenged their previous loss to Vernon by downing the East Siders 19 to 0 at Harding stadium In the reserve contest the schools fought a punting duel to a 0-0 deadlock.

Edison drove 52 yards for their first score, fullback Browning setting it up with a 25 yard run Brokaw, on a quarterback sneak, plunged over from within the one yard line in the first quarter

Upton pounced on Dowler's fumble in the second quarter on the Vernon 30 to set up the series of plays that resulted in the second six pointer The West Siders drove to the Vernon 12 where it appeared they would be held but on last down Brokaw lateraled to Browning who went to pay dirt

For the final score in the fourth quarter Edison started on their own 30 after receiving a Vernon punt Browning took a lateral from Brokaw hitting his own left side for 10 yards and one more TD. Browning once again figured in the scoring plunging for the point Browning also figured prominently in the final drive, posting among others a pair of 10 yard gains and one of 20 The longest run of the contest was also made by the hard charging Edison fullback when he took the pigskin on his own 25 and skirted the end for 40 yards

For Vernon Dowler and Zimmerman did the most ball toting however they were never able to get inside of the Edison 30

The reserve contest was a midfield affair, neither side able to seriously threaten the other's goal line

Jenkins holds the records for 50 miles up. He acquired a new car for a run this autumn but rain has stalled the attempt for three weeks.

Jenkins' camp on the flats, 120 miles west of here, was kept intact in the hope the run can be made before Nov. 15

COLOR LINE CAUSES FOOTBALL RUMPUS

Nevada and Mississippi State Spar Over Policy Difference.

By The Associated Press

RENO, Nev Oct 29—The old southern custom of drawing the color line on the football field today endangered the Nov 16 game between Nevada and Mississippi State at State College Miss

Graduate Manager Joseph T McDonnell of the University of Nevada football team revealed that athletic officials of the southern school had written Nevada Coach James Aiken that the appearance in the lineup of his two star Negro players would cause an unfortunate commotion.

McDonnell said that the Nevada athletic board would meet later in the week to formulate a policy in the matter He said cancellation of the game had not been brought up before the board The contract between the schools calls for a $3 000 forfeit to be paid by the school cancelling the game

The Nevada Negro players, William Bass 24 of Monongahela Pa and Horace Gillom, 25, of Massillon, O, have been mainstays of the Wolfpack all season Gillom has averaged 51 yards on his punts

Nevada students stewed over the situation with fraternities openly taking the side of the Negroes

McDonnell said the athletic board had written Mississippi State for a clarification and that a reply was expected later in the week

To further complicate the Nevada-Mississippi State situation Nevada's president Robert O Mosely has accepted an invitation to be the principal speaker at the inauguration of the new Mississippi State president the night before the game President Mosely was on the Pacific Coast today and unaware of the strained relations between the two schools

St. Mary Holds Marion Gridiron Spotlight as Harding Remains Idle

Irish Tangle Saturday With Unbeaten Columbus St. Mary

By GEORGE ROEST

Saturday night will be the big night for high school football this weekend when Marion St. Mary meets undefeated Columbus St. Mary at the Harding stadium. The Prexies in the meantime will be idle, their next game being here Nov. 8 with Sandusky.

This is the next to last game for the Irish and their last with non-Mid-State league competition.

Columbus St. Mary is reported to be exceptionally strong this year, having plenty of first team reserve material. The Marion Irish look as if they will be in shape to show up well against the Columbus invaders.

John Baldauf, the team's regular fullback who was out of several games, got back in against Lima and should see plenty of rugged duty in Saturday night's game.

Up To Full Strength

The team was up to its full strength in the Lima contest and rolled the strong visitors to a 6-6 tie in giving one of their best performance since Columbus Rosary. As yet a Columbus team hasn't beaten any of the Marion schools. St. Mary previously downed Rosary, Harding tied Linden McKinley, and in the junior highs Central beat Bexley. Maybe the Marion luck will hold again against the capital city.

Kenton, after losing 25 to 26 to Celina last weekend will play the undefeated but once-tied Carey Blue Devils. Kenton is enjoying its best season in recent years and although its record is not as impressive as Carey's they have only lost to Bluffton and Celina, while tying Ada and Forest.

They have victories over St. Marys, Van Wert and Wapakoneta. Both of the games the Dorsmen lost were by one point. Carey last weekend saw its hopes of gaining a perfect season blasted when they tied Fremont St. Joseph 7 all. They have only to get by Kenton and Upper Sandusky, though, to be one of the undefeated teams in the state and to own the best record of any team in this area. Both of their two remaining tilts, however, promise to be tough.

Upper Sandusky vs. Shelby

This weekend Upper Sandusky and Shelby meet in the game of the week. Shelby leads the Northern Ohio league and Upper is the nearest rival to their position. A win Friday night will put the teams in a tie for first place and that may be the final standings of the year. At any rate this will be the most crucial game of the year for the Northern league. Galion will meet Willard at Willard in an out-of-league contest. Ashland will be the last foe of the Galion squad next weekend on the Galion field. Bucyrus, after losing four games in a row, will meet Bellevue at home. This will probably find both teams evenly matched and although neither has posted an outstanding record this season, both have pulled upsets. Bucyrus downed Norwalk unexpectedly and Bellevue last weekend gained its first victory in seven starts over Galion.

In the county Caledonia is the league champs and the six-man league schedule will be terminated when LaRue meets Prospect Thursday afternoon. This means farewell to cleats and pads and welcome to suction cups and hardwood.

Richwood, in third place in the Mid-State league, plays at Ashley in an out-of-league contest and will wind up its league play with bottom rung Sunbury the following week end. Marysville which last night clinched the Mid-State league title for the second year will be winding up league play against Sunbury this weekend. Mt. Gilead, tied with Richwood for second place, will meet Fredericktown in a non-league game.

The standings of the Mid-State league are as follows:

	W.	L.	T.
Mt. Gilead	1	1	1
Richwood	1	1	1
St. Mary	1	2	0
Sunbury	0	2	0

WINS IN FOX HUNT

By The Associated Press

JACKSON, O,. Oct. 29—Wade, a foxhound owned by Willard Bennett of Portsmouth, was reported winner yesterday of the all-age class of the Ohio Fox Hunters association meeting here. Sun Dial, owned by Ben Dial, Wellston, won the derby class, a secondary feature.

ACQUIRE PLAYER

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 29—The Philadelphia Rockets of the American Hockey league have acquired Rowland Forget from the Buffalo Bisons in a straight player swap for Charles Callanan. Both are wingmen.

OL ROCKIN' CHAIR'S got Frankie Frisch, the former Fordham Flash and Pittsburgh Pirate manager. After a turbulent season at the Steel City, including a player strike and a seventh place finish, Frankie has retired temporarily. He won't stay out of baseball for good, he says, but adds, "I have no immediate plans for the future, except to take it easy for a while here at home."

MARYSVILLE TAKES MID-STATE TITLE

Whips Mt. Gilead 26-12 To Clinch First Place.

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE — Playing on their home field Marysville last night clinched its second straight Mid-State league title by defeating Mt. Gilead 26 to 12. The Monarchs have only one more tilt in the league that with Sunbury next weekend. However, the outcome of that contest will not affect their position in the standings. This was the third win against no losses for the club in league play.

Marysville made their score in the first three quarters of the game and it was not until the fourth quaretr that Mt. Gilead was able to chalk up a pair of touchdowns.

Receiving the kick off on their own 38, Marysville drove from there making three first downs and left half Hill scoring from the eight. Right half Bell converted.

The Monarchs scored in the second quarter when a pass from Rogers to left end Dayton climaxed an 80-yard scoring drive. Bell accounted for the point.

In the third quarter Bell went over from the four after the Monarchs had driven from their own 28. Bell failed in his conversion attempt. Bell once more figured in the scoring taking a pass from mid-field and making his way across 30 yards of playing turf to hit pay dirt. His try for point was unsuccessful.

In the fourth quarter Mt. Gilead opened up starting from 43 yards out. They drove to a score on a pass Nelson Campbell to Klingel turning the trick. Pete Campbell's attempted conversion failed. Mt. Gilead scored again with less than a minute to go driving from mid-field on a pass from N. Campbell to Burnell resulted in the score. P. Campbell's attempted point was no good.

Bixler Says OSU Will Have Something New Saturday

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 29 — Notes from the Big Nine football camps:

Ohio State — Coach Paul Bixler says "We'll have something new to throw at Northwestern Saturday," after hearing his scouts' praise the Wildcats .... "They are the class of the league," said scout Esco Sarkkinen. "I've seen all the Big Nine teams in action and Northwestern is the most outstanding of all." ....Ernie Godfrey, who watched the Northwestern-College of Pacific game, predicted the Buckeyes' test Saturday "will be Ohio's hardest game of the year."....

Northwestern — Awed by Ohio State's 39-9 triumph over Minnesota, Coach Lynn Waldorf cancelled a scheduled rest for his regulars yesterday and began plotting a stronger passing attack built around Jerry Carle. Frank Aschenbrenner, Bob Baggott and Don Burson....Burson has completed 10 out of 21 tosses and Carle has a 7-16 record....

Illinois — Surviving the Michigan game without mishap, the Illini were hopeful today that tackle Mike Kasap and center Lou Donoho might be able to resume play against Iowa....Kasap, who suffered a broken finger against Wisconsin Oct. 19, and Donoho, who had a leg injury, did not make the trip to Ann Arbor....

Iowa — Coach Dr. Eddie Anderson believes the Hawkeyes will be at full strength for Illinois....Dick Hoerner's knee, which was slightly injured in the Notre Dame game, is expected to be completely healed by Saturday....

Wisconsin—The Badgers, swinging back into hard work after an open date last Saturday, may have their already thin reserve strength curtailed further for the Purdue game....Fullback T. A. Cox, tackle Don Lee, halfback John Pinnow, and quarterback Stan Heath have injuries which may sideline them....

Purdue — Kenny Smock, veteran halfback who has been out with an ankle injury, was expected to rejoin the squad in time to play in the homecoming contest against Wisconsin — Purdue's first home start in six weeks....

Michigan — The Wolverines' are concentrating on tightening up their line after their surprising loss to Illinois, 9 to 13....Fullback Bob Wiese, bumped hard in the chest, still has a painful injury although X-rays have not disclosed any broken bones.... But Wiese may be ready to play Saturday when Michigan meets Minnesota....

Minnesota — The Gophers are still minus the help of such good men as Chuck Dellago, Bill Baumgartner, Bob Bach, Doug De Coster, Buff Wheeler and Chuck Avery, and freshmen may have to carry most of the load against the Wolverines.

Indiana — Fullback Harry Jagade and guard Frank Ciolli are expected to miss the Pittsburgh game Saturday after being sidelined with injuries for two weeks ....Halfback Dick Deranek will be ready although an injured heel may hamper his running.

CANCEL SPEECH BY ELLIOTT ROOSEVELT

By The Associated Press

TUCKAHOE, N. Y., Oct. 29—The boards of education of two school districts in Eastchester township have turned down arrangements made between the local democratic chairman and school principals to have Elliott Roosevelt and his wife address student assemblies at four schools Thursday.

The schools at which the son of the late President and his wife, actress Faye Emerson, were to speak are the Eastchester high school and Waverly school in district 1 and Tuckahoe high school and the Main street school in District 2.

In a statement yesterday, the board of District 1 said:

"The board of education does not believe it appropriate to convoke assemblies of the Eastchester high school for anything that might be construed as political."

Joseph Venuti, Democratic chairman in this section of Westchester county, who made the arrangements last Tuesday with the principals said the action of the boards was "strictly political, narrow minded and small potatoes."

CALEDONIA GRIDDERS REMAIN UNDEFEATED

Win Over Claridon, 38-30, in Closing Game.

Caledonia proved itself to be more than a match for Claridon yesterday afternoon playing at Claridon. Although Claridon led at the half 18 to 14, the county champs sent their backs across the goal line sufficient times in the second half to gain a 38 to 30 victory.

Touchdowns were scored for Caledonia by Comstock, Fleming and Rodgers, each crossing the goal line twice. Rodgers scored the extra points in the first half. For Claridon Augenstine scored twice and G. Ruth, J. Ruth, and Belknap each scored once.

This was the last tilt of the season for the two schools and Caledonia emerged undefeated and untied in five starts. The Caledonia six man squad is coached by Thurman Wright and all of it starters except Goodman the center are seniors this year.

The lineups follow:

Caledonia		Claridon
Rodgers	LE	Creenap
Goodman	C	Belknap
Furness	RE	Pickett
Clark	QB	G. Ruth

Former Cardington Man Dies in Mt. Vernon

Martin L. Perkins, 86, a former resident of Cardington, died at 10 a. m. Monday in the Mt. Vernon Mercy hospital following a brief illness. He also resided for a time with a son, W. H. Perkins near Chesterville.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Donald Hiser of Bucyrus, and the son with whom he formerly made his home. Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p. m. Wednesday in the Pulaskiville church by Rev. Grace Patterson. Burial will be made in the Bryn-Zion cemetery east of Mt. Gilead.

ALTHOUGH HE WEIGHS ONLY 159 pounds, George Guerre of Michigan State is very nearly a one-man football team. Against Penn State, he scored one touchdown and set up two more as the Spartans blasted Penn from the unbeaten ranks 19 to 16. He is ranked as one of the top 10 punters in the country. Defensively he follows in the tradition of other half-pint grid heroes — Davey O'Brien and Albie Booth among them.

Richwood Gridders Trip West Jefferson 19 to 0

Richwood spoiled the West Jefferson homecoming last Saturday afternoon by turning in its second straight win of the season 19 to 0.

Richwood fullback Tucker Smith scored in the first quarter on the first play after Davis blocked a West Jefferson punt on the West Jefferson 30.

John Wiley climaxed a 30-yard drive in the second quarter scoring around right end from the two. The third Tiger touchdown was scored in the final period by Les Wall on a one-yard plunge after the Tigers had driven from their own 35. Chapman made the extra point.

Ohio Schoolboy Championship Race Enters Showdown Stage

By DON STULL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 29—The race for the mythical scholastic football championship of Ohio approaches the showdown stage this week with most of the state's unbeaten, untied high school elevens facing tough, title-testing foes.

One of the top contests of the week sends Dayton Oakwood against Lima Central in a battle that's certain to dump at least one team from the perfect circle. Both Oakwood and Central have won seven in a row this year. They meet Friday at Lima.

Another Dayton squad, the Chaminade Eagles, risks a 16-game winning streak—including seven straight this year—against the once-tied and once-beaten Massillon Tigers, who helped dump Mansfield out of the title-running with a 12-12 tie two weeks ago. Chaminade plays at Massillon Friday night.

St. Xavier In Running

St. Xavier, also sporting seven in a row, takes on unbeaten but once-tied Cincinnati Elder Sunday. Cincinnati Purcell, undefeated in 1944, 1945 and through seven games this year, tackles Cincy Withrow Friday, and should Purcell get by that one, it still has games with Elder and St. Xavier.

A pair of perfect records go on the block in the Youngstown area Friday night. Youngstown Woodrow Wilson, the city's only eleven with a clean slate, goes up against Youngstown Ursuline, one of the select last year but beaten by Campbell Memorial, Steubenville Central and Alliance this season. Campbell Memorial, with a string of triumphs dating back to 1944, tangles with Youngstown East.

Also in northeastern Ohio, East Palestine goes after victory No. 8 against Louisville Saturday.

Upper Arlington and Grandview

The Columbus district's two title hopes—Upper Arlington and Grandview—are slated for action Friday. Arlington will try to make it eight in a row against Washington Court House's already-defeated Lions, who showed their disdain for impressive records last week by handing London its first loss in eight starts, 19-12. If Grandview gets by Columbus St. Charles, they'll be meeting Arlington the following week with a perfect season at stake.

The pride of the class B schoolboy elevens, Lockland of near Cincinnati, meets Deer Park Friday in quest of its 17th straight triumph. The Locklanders, with only 111 boys in their school and 49 of 'em on the football squad, have knocked over such class A competitors as Cincinnati Woodward and Norwood in piling up that string.

Another top-running "B" squad, Columbiana, goes after its 14th in a row Saturday against Lisbon.

In other outstanding clashes among class A elevens this week, once-tied Cathedral Latin's Lions meets Cleveland Collinwood and twice-tied but unbeaten Mansfield tackles Toledo Woodward, upset only by Toledo Libbey.

Fate of War Plant Disputed

Use for Making Cars or Prefab Houses Argued by Agencies.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29—A table thumping dispute between two government agencies over whether a $170,947,000 war plant should be put to work turning out homes or cars landed on Attorney General Tom Clark's lap today.

At stake is whether the huge Dodge-Chrysler Corporation plant at Chicago, one of the largest built during the war, will go to the Tucker Corporation for production of a new-type automobile, or to the Lustron Corporation for the manufacture of pre-fabricated housing.

The national housing administration yesterday invoked its own war powers as well as the veterans' emergency housing act to "direct" that the plant be leased or sold to Lustron. The war assets administration, which previously had rejected less formal demands from NHA on the ground that a lease had already been made with the Tucker Corporation, checked the matter up to the justice department.

"The directive," WAA said, will be submitted to the attorney general for an opinion on the legality of the order." At the same time WAA reiterated that it considers itself "legally obligated to stand by" its Sept. 18 lease with Tucker.

Preston Tucker, president of the Tucker Corporation, expressed a similar view. He added that he would decide upon a "course of legal action" after consulting his lawyers.

"The plant leased to us which the NHA now is trying to award to somebody else is in no way suited for prefabrication of houses," Tucker's statement continued. "Our engineers estimate that a new firm coming into the plant at this time could not start producing prefabricated houses before the end of 18 months or two years."

NHA on the other hand declared in its formal order that the plant was not only particularly suited for housing production but was needed among other reasons because of defense requirements. The agency elaborated on this by saying that defense includes "meeting the existing housing emergency which is vital for an orderly transition from war to peace."

In a statement accompanying the order, NHA asserted that "there is no argument on the fact that housing production is more important at the present time than production of more types of automobiles."

Ingram, 14, of Rogers, and Chester Thompson, 13, of Leetonia, who died as a result of a truck collision yesterday in which 16 other persons were injured. Two youths were reported in critical condition in a hospital today and 10 other potato-pickers remained hospitalized with injuries received when a truck loaded with paving bricks collided with a farm truck transporting a crew of workers on route 14 near Columbiana, the coroner reported.

They are Roy J. Conley, 42, of Morral and George M. Neef, 44, of near Cardington. Conley was arrested on North Main street Monday at 7:50 p. m. Neef was stopped at Church and South Main streets Monday at 8:15 p. m.

LEVY

spent as follows: 2.4 percent for general control, 76.7 per cent for instruction, 12.1 per cent for plant operation, 4.1 per cent for plant maintenance, .7 per cent for auxiliary agencies and 4 per cent for fixed charges. These figures compare with the state averages as follows: 3.1 per cent for general control, 73.2 per cent for instruction, 12 per cent for plant operation, 4.3 per cent for auxiliary agencies and 4.2 per cent for fixed charges.

This year 84.7 per cent of the school dollar is being spent for the payment of school personnel.

Endorsed by Civic Group.

In August the school levy was endorsed by the Marion Civic Planning Association. After an extensive survey by the research committee of the association, under the direction of S. E. Prichard, William Kehrwecker and Ben T. Wiant, the committee reached the following conclusions: "The proposed average increase in teachers' salaries is justified under present conditions, the school board has no available funds from which such increases could be granted and it would require an additional levy of two mills to take care of the proposed increases." Following the committee's report the Civic Planning association endorsed the levy and urged Marion voters to support it.

78 Other Cities Act.

Marion is one of 77 Ohio cities which are asking approval for special school tax levies for operating expenses at the November election in an effort to solve school financial problems.

According to a recent announcement from the Ohio Education association, teachers' salaries have lagged far behind climbing costs of living.

"Real pay," according to the association, has shrunk in buying power to approximately $330 a year less than in 1939, driving the economic position of the teacher lower than it was before the war.

Pravda Says Japan Not Democratized

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Oct. 29 — The Communist party newspaper Pravda declared today that "a road as long as from the earth to the sky remains to be traversed before Japan is democratized."

The comment, broadcast by the Moscow radio, followed a statement by Prime Minister Stalin broadcast earlier in the day that "there are some successes but better successes could be obtained" in the Japanese occupation.

The article, by M. Markov, was aimed primarily at the Zaibatsu, composed of what he described as the "four biggest Japanese monopolies — Mitsui, Mitsubishi, Yasuda and Sumitomo."

Palestine Issue Won't Be Raised, Arabs Say

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 29—Faris El Khouri, Syrian delegate to the United Nations assembly, said today the Arab states had agreed not to bring up the controversial Palestine question at the current assembly session.

El Khouri, a leading spokesman for the Arab group, disclosed this shortly after it was learned that representatives of the Middle East countries decided in a caucus last night to back Syria for the seat Egypt is vacating on the security council in January.

Nation's Industrial Picture Brightens As Strikes Terminate

By The Associated Press

Ending of two major labor disputes and word from President Truman that there would be no strike by 400,000 soft coal miners on Nov. 1 tended to brighten the nation's industrial front today.

Labor news of a cheerful note came from New York. The worst transportation blockade in the city's history was lifted as the eastern phase of the maritime strike ended and the trucking dispute, which had halted the flow of commerce in the metropolitan area for nearly two months, came to virtual cessation.

Ship officers withdrew picket lines from around most East and Gulf coast ports as the AFL Masters, Mates and Pilots union formally ended its strike of 28 days against East-Gulf coast operators.

Longshoremen began unloading millions of pounds of sugar and other cargo that had been tied up in ships in New York harbor. The CIO Marine Engineers Beneficial association, which also had been on strike, previously had approved an agreement with the Atlantic and Gulf coast operators.

Won 15 Per Cent Hike

Both unions, which still are on strike on the West Coast, won 15 per cent wage increases as against demands of 30 per cent for the CIO union and 35 per cent for the AFL affiliate.

In the 57-day trucking dispute, holdout truck operators dissolved their organization and signed contracts with three locals of the AFL Teamsters Brotherhood.

The five-week old movie strike in Hollywood continued and early settlement was not indicated as the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employes and its insurgent technicians' local 683 failed to reach an agreement. Leaders of the local said most of the 2,100 members would not return to work until Roy M. Brewer, named to the presidency by International President Richard J. Walsh, was deposed.

In Washington, there were no reports of progress in mediation efforts in the nine-day strike of Trans-World Airlines pilots arising from a dispute over wages.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29—The national labor relations board today announced dismissal of a petition for certification and investigation of a collective bargaining election at the Majestic Electric Appliance Co. at Galion, O.

In balloting last Sept. 13, the International Association of Machinists was rejected as bargaining agent. The petition sought to dispute outcome of the election.

By The Associated Press

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind. Oct. 29—A train struck a truck here—and the truck struck back.

The train won the decision.

Lester Arthur Shelton, 51, was driving the truck when it was hit by a speeding passenger train. The truck was shoved into a yard, remained in gear and ran back into the side of the train. It bounced along for about half a block before disentangling itself.

Shelton was treated in Culver hospital for minor injuries.

STALIN

in the form of a question before the house of commons last week, that the Soviet union had 200 divisions there, on full war strength.

"In the west," Stalin said, "that is, in Germany, Austria, Hungary, Bulgaria, Romania and Poland, the Soviet Union has at present in all 60 divisions (infantry and tank together). Most of them are not full staffed. There are no Soviet troops in Yugoslavia. In two months, when the decree of the presidium of the supreme Soviet on Oct. 22 this year on demobilization of the last contingent is put into effect, 40 Soviet divisions will remain in the above-mentioned countries."

He gave a flat "no" answer to an inquiry as to whether Russia had yet developed an atom bomb or any similar weapon and repeated his Sept. 24 appraisal that the atom bomb "cannot decide the outcome of war." Nethertheless, he said he felt that "strict international control" of atomic power was necessary.

Democrats Blamed For Sugar Shortage

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29—Rep. Jenkins (R-Ohio) chairman of the Republican food study committee, issued a statement today asserting that "imperious acts by the Democratic administration alone are responsible for the absence of sugar from American tables when there is no shortage of sugar."

For one thing, he declared, the OPA "made it an unlawful act to ship beet sugar from the western states into the east." Department of agriculture action "belatedly superceding the frivolous OPA embargo" will be of little help because of the tight transportation situation, Jenkins said.

Hunting Season To Idle Mines Nov. 1, Owners Say

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 29—Whether or not a walkout of AFL United Mine Workers starts Friday, operators expect that many Pennsylvania miners will be idle anyway—the small game hunting season opens that day.

Operators today estimated they can figure on 25 to 35 per cent absenteeism. If good weather prevails, it might mean 15,000 to 20,000 miners absent.

With Saturday the only remaining day of the work week and the chance for overtime eliminated by Friday's holiday, it looks like a full weekend observance, operators said.

HUNT FASCIST PRINTERS

By The Associated Press

ROME, Oct. 29—Fascist propaganda which popped up at many places in Italy yesterday—the 24th anniversary of Benito Mussolini's march on Rome—spurred police today to an intensive investigation of Italian print shops. A nationwide plan apparently guided followers of the dead Duce in yesterday's commemorations, for there was marked similarity in the leaflets handed out. All opened with this phrase: "The March Continues."

PROBE SCHOOL "STRIKE"

CLEVELAND, Oct. 29—An investigation into the "strike" by more than 100 Collinwood High school students last week has been ordered by the Cleveland board of education. "Striking" pupils last Thursday marched in front of the school in a demonstration they said was against a rule governing the making up of work missed by class absences.

It will set up and direct divisions of military application, research, engineering and production, each in charge of a director to be paid $14,000 a year.

Mercy Flight Fails When Plane Crashes

By The Associated Press

YOKOHAMA, Oct. 29 — This mercy flight failed.

An injured serviceman perished yesterday when the army amphibian to which he had been transferred from the Seattle-bound transport Marine Serpent capsized and sank in heavy seas alongside the ship. His name was not reported.

The seven army air force crewmen were rescued after they failed in attempts to save the injured man.

The Marine Serpent sailed Friday with home-bound troops. The following day she radioed for aid, saying "brain operation imperative."

Both the navy and army sent planes and the navy also sent the destroyer Collett. The navy plane was unable to land because of rough seas. The army plane effected the transfer, but sank attempting to take off.

Illinois Snake Scare "Made in Texas"

By The Associated Press

EVANSTON, Ill., Oct. 29—An excited woman telephoned police and said a four foot snake, coiled and ready to strike, was on a lawn in Dempster street.

John Hoffman, the department's dog catcher, sped to the scene. He approached cautiously as he spotted what appears the reptile the woman had reported. It was four feet long, five inches in diameter, and had ten rattles.

Hoffman fired one shot and the snake exploded into a dozen pieces. Hoffman picked up a piece of the snake's stomach and read "Made in Texas." The snake was made of plaster of Paris.

ERIE PLACES ORDER FOR STEEL RAILS

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 29—The Erie Railroad has placed orders with two steel companies for 25,-327 tons of steel rail to be delivered in 1947 as part of its regular track maintenance program, H. D. Barber, operating vice president, announced today.

Orders will also be placed for tie plates, angle bars, spikes and other accessories required for complete installation. The total purchases for this track material, including rails, amount to $1,710,-772.

The rail order is made up of 15,208 tons of 112 pound rail and 10,029 tons of 131 pound rail which will provide for laying 116 miles of new rail in 1947. This year the Erie laid 79 miles of new rail.

Delivery of the rail and track material is expected to start early next spring when suitable weather conditions permit resumption of the normal track laying program, and such work usually continues until cold weather sets in.

BONDED BOURBON WHISKY REPORTED READY SHORTLY

Prices Likely To Be Staggering However, Dealer Says.

By The Associated Press

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 29—Bonded bourbon whisky soon will be available in liquor stores here and elsewhere, industry spokesmen said today, but "the price will stagger you a bit."

P. Booker Robinson, Liberty National Bank's authority on whisky dealings, said the prices probably would range between $7.50 and $9 a fifth, compared to a price of around $4 a fifth under OPA ceilings. But there was little or no merchandise available at the latter figure.

Zach Oppenheimer, president of the Kentucky Liquor Dealers association and of the Louisville Liquor Dealers association, said dealers in this area had threatened to revolt at the proposed higher prices when bourbon becomes more plentiful.

"We can put thumbs down on this high price business," Oppenheimer said. "We've held the line this long and we hope to continue to do it—just like the housewife did on meat.

"We're hoping they'll sell so we can retail it between $6 and $7 a fifth, nearer to $6."

FBI To Give Lynching Data to Grand Jury

By The Associated Press

MACON, Ga., Oct. 29—Evidence collected by scores of FBI agents who investigated the lynching of four Negroes near Monroe, Ga., will be presented to a federal grand jury in Athens, Ga.

U. S. Attorney General Tom Clark announced in New York last night that he had directed turning the evidence over to the grand jury in the hope "it will be able to put the finger on those dastardly conspirators."

The evidence in the hands of the FBI was obtained through questioning 2,500 persons.

Government agents have been investigating the lynchings from a special FBI headquarters set up in Monroe.

Clark disclosed the government's action in an address before the New York Herald Tribune forum.

Food Dealers Request End of Sugar Rationing

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 29—Discontinuance of rations and price controls on sugar is advocated by the Ohio Retail Food Dealers association.

The association at its annual meeting here yesterday urged President Truman to lift the sugar regulations, saying exports should be curtailed and diverted to domestic use.

The food dealers elected Frank Yaekel of Toledo as their president, and Herbert Schraeder of Massillon, vice president.

At Chicago, a low of 65 degrees was reported for the last 24 hours, the highest minimum ever recorded here for Oct. 29. The normal minimum is 37. Navy V-2 Rocket Snaps Sun's Picture

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 — A rocket-mounted spectrograph has taken "pictures" of the sun from a height 65 miles above the earth.

Announcing this today, the Navy said it is studying portions of the sun's spectrum never before photographed.

The pictures were taken from a Navy V-2 rocket fired by the army at the White Sands, N. M., proving ground Oct. 10.

"It is not possible at present to say much more than that very valuable information will be obtained from these spectrograms," the Navy said.

Anti-Semetic Charges Cause Officer's Ouster

By The Associated Press

JERUSALEM, Oct. 29—A military communique announced today that Lt. Col. Richard H. Webb, veteran commander of the First Battalion of Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders, had been removed from his command for "giving unauthorized and unofficial opinions" to a group of correspondents the night of Oct. 24.

The incident occurred when Webb, a veteran of several wars and holder of numerous military decorations took the men to his office to save them from arrest after a subordinate complained they were "interfering" with the screening of Jews following a bombing incident.

The correspondents, who included three Americans, later quoted Webb as making "extremely anti-Semitic remarks" while talking with them. All filed stories to Britain and the United States and military authorities subsequently launched an investigation.

Cotton Opens at $4.50 To $10 Per Bale Lower

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 29—The cotton market opened $4.50 to $10.00 a bale under the previous closing today.

Extreme losses put the price of cotton $50.00 a bale below that prevailing before the recent decline started about ten days ago.

Shortly after the opening call, the market rebounded $2.50 to $5.00 a bale on trade buying and commission house covering. The undertone continued extremely nervous, however, and after the first hour declines ranged from $5.00 to $8.60 below the previous close, with December quoted at 29.60 cents a pound.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29—Soft coal output during the week ended Oct. 19 totaled 12,510,000 tons an increase of 260,000 tons over the previous week. Reporting this today, the solid fuels administration said the production was more than double the 5,947,000 tons for the corresponding week of last year, when a series of supervisory strikes was in effect.

Boy, Unshorn 11 Years, Isn't Called Longhair

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29—Jimmy Garvin had a haircut when he was two years old. He wasn't pleased. At that age, who is?

But that was 11 years ago and Jimmy hasn't had a haircut since.

Naturally, his golden locks are getting a little long—a couple of feet long. They curl around his shoulders in natural waves.

You never hear it mentioned around the seventh grade at Langley Junior High school, however. Jimmy is handy with his dukes.

Mrs. Marvin Garvin, his mother, just shrugs when the subject comes up.

"We're all individualists in this family," says she.

WALLACE URGES SHUFFLE IN PARTY ALIGNMENTS

Thinks "Liberals" of Both Political Factions Should Unite.

By The Associated Press

TACOMA Wash, Oct 29— Henry A Wallace urged last night the liberals' of the Democratic and Republican parties join in a battle against reaction.

The battle, he said, should result in a readjustment of political ties which would create a liberal and conservative party in the United States.

It is time the former secretary of commerce said, "that the parties right themselves on these problems and quit deceiving the people"

Earlier in his round of speaking in Seattle and Bremerton, Wallace said asserted that an outbreak of Soviet-baiting" in this country had provoked "American-baiting" by the Russians "And they are just as good baiters as we are," Wallace added

Refrigeration Industry To Alter Eating Habits

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Oct 29 — The refrigeration industry is going to make some changes in the eating, shopping and living habits of Americans, say its leaders gathered here today for their first postwar convention and exposition

Some of these changes were forecast by H. F Spoehrer of St Louis, president of the Refrigeration Equipment Manufacturers association, as the fourth all-industry refrigeration and air-conditioning exposition opened displays in public hall

For one thing, home air-conditioning will see a vastly increased application of reverse-cycle refrigeration for heating and cooling homes, Spoehrer said.

"Food locker plants will be in a position not only to provide storage space and processing facilities, but to supply the food itself for their clients," he continued

He predicted a new type of restaurant food service, offering complete precooked meals

LIFE'S DARKEST MOMENT

By H. T. Webster

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

THERE was a speculative look tinged with mirth in Harry Underwood's eyes as I finished telling him of the aid which Marion could give our problem. But there was also a touch of steel in his gaze underlying his words when he spoke.

"Dear Lady Fair," he said, using the name he gave me years ago, and which he almost invariably applies to me, "suppose we first clear the decks for action by cramming your Puritan conscience into its box and slamming the lid down tight."

No Scruples Needed

"Marion has enough quixotism stored up in her system, he went on, "to supply herself and you, and a dozen other assorted females. No extra supply of scruples is needed from you. And we don't need any tender sympathetic heart throbs, either. What you've got to be, Lady Fair, is plenty tough and hard-hearted inside. On the surface you may be as mushy and marmaladey as you like."

"You're plagiarizing Dicky," I said, to cover my confusion.

"'Alliteration's artful aid?'" he quoted. "Suppose I am. That's beside the question, which is your toughness when tackling Marion on the subject in hand"

"I tackle Marion?" I exclaimed "Why, why, I thought—"

"Who else?" Harry countered inexorably

"Lillian," I stammered, "or you."

A Woman's Touch

"Neither of us, qualifying for the job," he said crisply. "It needs a woman's understanding touch, so I'm out, and Lillian could tackle any other woman in the world, but not Marion. She idolizes her so much that she's licked on anything like this before she begins.

"Next to her mother," he went on, "Marion loves and reveres you as tops in 'wisdom and understanding and fear of the Lord'—I've probably misquoted, but you get the general idea, I'm sure.

"And because of that," he went on, "this particular baby is dropped right into your lap. If you need any help I can give you, just yell. But—I don't believe I'd let Lil in on it, if it can be helped."

"I agree with you there," I said, and he shot a shrewd look at me.

"What about the other proposition, that you're elected to the job?" he asked.

I screwed up my resolution and fastened it.

No Other Way

"I don't see any other way out," I said, "so I'll agree to that, too"

"Good girl!" he said. "I knew you'd come through.'

He looked at his wrist watch again, and sat down opposite me, relaxing.

"Let's talk about the weather," he said grinning, "until 'Barnacle Bill,' alias Katie, 'comes a knocking at the door.'"

"I imagine we'll have time only for the local broadcasts," I told him, and my prophecy was justified, for in less than a minute, Katie's knock sounded on the door. When I opened it, her eyes were filled with mirth — and pride.

"Me, I've seen lots of eaters," she said in cheery but discreetly muted tones, "but I nefer saw beat of dose fellers. Goot ting I hide me hoonderd or so rolls—dere vouldn't haf been one left for dining room. I let dem fill up on bread ven dere share of rolls run oudt."

"When will they be through eating, Katie?" I asked.

"In two, tree more meenits, I guess," she said. "I heard one of dem tell de next feller dot he could chew but he couldn't swallow another mouthful."

A Throaty Chortle

She gave one of her throaty chortles, and sped away, leaving us to control our risibles as best we might.

"If they could put Katie on the films just as she is," Harry said

"She'd have stage fright," I said, "and be anything but amusing."

"No doubt you're right,' he said, holding open the door for me. "May I make a messenger girl out of you?"
